Ford Awaits Vote

By JAMES GERSTENZANG
Associated Press Writer

With the Michigan and Maryland primaries today, Jimmy Carter said he was "absolutely" certain of winning the Democratic nomination on the first ballot, while a close associate of President Ford's predicted Ford would reverse his string of defeats.

Ford is in a battle in his home state with Republican challenger Ronald Reagan.

In Maryland, California Gov. Edmund G. Brown, in his initial contest outside of California, faces Democratic frontrunner Carter.

Reagan and Ford are also on the ballot in the Republican primary in Maryland, but neither campaigned there.

In Michigan, the Republicans will choose 84 convention delegates and the Democrats 133.

The Democratic race there has centered on Carter, Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona, and Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. Others on the ballot are Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, former Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma and Sargent Shriver, all of whom have ceased active campaigning, and anti-abortion candidate Ellen McCormack.

In Maryland, the Republicans will choose 43 delegates and the Democrats 53.

In addition to Carter and Brown, the candidates there include Udall, Jackson, Wallace, Harris and Mrs. McCormack; but Brown and Carter, the former Georgia governor, have been the focus of the race.

Polls close at 8 p.m. EDT in both states.

Reagan's national campaign chairman, Sen. Paul Laxalt, RNev., said Monday that a Reagan victory in Michigan "would be tantamount to a nomination" for the former California governor.

He said such a victory "is still very much a long shot, but added: "political lightning may strike."

Ford has lost five of the last six primary contests to Reagan.

In weekend campaigning, Ford called the contest crucial and Laxalt said that if the President lost, the defeat would "strain the President's credibility" as an electable candidate.

Former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, a long-time political adviser to Ford, said Monday night that the President would win 61 per cent of the Michigan vote.

Carter, with 603 committed delegates, is well in front of his nearest Democratic rivals, and he said Monday that neither the Maryland nor the Michigan primary was vital to him.

But in Maryland, Brown's intensive campaigning across the state has turned a potential runaway Carter victory into a close contest.

Reagan is leading Ford in delegates selected, 479 to 332, with 1,130 delegates needed for the nomination. In the Democratic race, 1,505 delegates are needed.

Carter said Monday he was "absolutely' sure of winning the Democratic nomination on the first ballot even if he loses the Michigan race, and he said a defeat in Maryland would not be serious.

Wallace, who won 51 per cent of the Democratic vote in the 1972 Michigan primary, drew small crowds and a lukewarm reception in his Michigan campaign swing, which he wound up Friday.

The Alabama governor said in Wheaton, Md., Monday that he would stay in the presidential race through the last primary, June 8.

He was making his first appearance in Maryland since he was shot and paralyzed four years ago during a campaign rally at a shopping center.

In other political developments Monday:

—Gov. Wendell R. Anderson of Minnesota was chosen permanent chairman of the Democratic party's platform committee after the temporary chairman, Gov. Philip Noel of Rhode Island, removed himself from consideration for the post.

Democratic Chairman Robert Strauss told the platform committee that internal bickering kept the party out of power for eight years but that the Democrats had closed ranks for the 1976 campaign.

—Ford nominated six members of the reconstituted Federal Election Commission, including a replacement for chairman Thomas B. Curtis, who had asked not to be renominated.

—Supporters of Ford and Reagan in Washington state agreed that Reagan holds the majority of delegates at the state Republican party convention, following the final five county conventions held over the weekend.

Coach 'Pop' Fullen Retires After 42 Years Of Teaching

LAWRENCE FULLEN

By SUE BOYER
Herald Staff Writer

One of Pickaway County's best known teachers and coaches is hanging up the pointer after this year. Lawrence W. (Pop) Fullen, teacher at Teays Valley Junior High, has submitted his retirement resignation after dedicating 42 years to the profession.

Fullen, a lifetime resident of Pickaway County, was born in Darbyville and began his career at Muhlenburg Township School. He taught there for four years before taking a position in the Ashville school district. He has spent the past 38 years in what is now the Teays Valley District.

The retiring teacher holds a bachelor of science degree in elementary education from Ohio University. He also attended West Virginia Wesleyan University. Fullen and his wife, Mildred are the parents of one son, Larry. They are also the proud grandparents of two youngsters.

In addition to teaching, Fullen has coached one sport or another all of his 42 years. At Ashville School, he coached reserve basketball and during World War II, he was assigned to coach the varsity team. It was during this time, 1945, that Pop and his boys went to the state tournament and placed third in the state.

He also coached high school track for several years and has coached junior high basketball and track. During the last years that the junior high school classes were housed in the old Ashville building, he was head coach for football, basketball and track. This year, he coached junior high track and eighth grade basketball.

During the long junior high coaching career, Fullen's teams have claimed 15 county titles. He also proudly points out that he has won 127 of the 174 games his teams played in the last nine years of his basketball coaching career.

Going way back to the early days of his career, Fullen remembers one of his prized athletes was Snap Ankrom. Ankrom and Fullen were both at Muhlenberg School at the time.

Fullen and John Hardin initiated six-man football at Ashville when interest was renewed in the sport, at the smaller schools.

In the earlier years as a teacher, Fullen taught sixth and seventh grade and later eighth grade in self-contained classes. For years after that, he taught American History and Ohio History to eighth graders at Ashville. When the junior high school was moved to the high school building on split sessions, Fullen was assigned a position of teaching only American History and being the attendance officer for the junior high.

Very aware of his students' abilities and progress, Fullen proudly shows several pieces of student art he has required in celebration of the nation's bicentennial. Students were required to draw pictures of the various stages of advancement of the United States.

Although all we got from Fullen in response to a question about his most embarrassing moment in his career was a chuckle, he did reveal one of the times he was most amused. He was

Deputies Charge Columbus Man, Youths With Burglary

A Columubs man, charged with aggravated burglary and grand theft by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies, was released on recognizance bond after a preliminary hearing in Municipal Court Tuesday morning.

Jerry Lee Eggers, 20, Columbus, was charged by Detective Don Thompson and Deputy William Carmean with the theft of about $200 in merchandise from the home of Curtis Reed, 13070 Route 56, between 8:10 a.m. and 11:45 a.m. Monday.

Similar charges are expected to be filed in Hocking County, they said.

Two youths, 17 and 14, were also charged with Eggers.

Deputy Carmean said the trio forced the back door of Reed's home, which is located at the intersection of the Kime-Holderman Road and Route 56.

They took a 19-inch Magnovox television set, an AM-FM radio with digital clock, an electric heater, and a bottle of sleeping pills. The items were found in the trunk of their car.

The trio was traced to Hocking County by Deputy Carmean.

They apparently burglarized several homes there before being frightened from a dwelling after waking up a resident.

The trio, fleeing the scene, drove their car into a ditch, knocking off an engine part. The part was found by Deputy Carmean.

However, the vehicle overheated in Laurelville. Delbert Kerr, owner of a wrecker service in Laurelville, said that the three people asked him to tow the car to the Great Southern Shopping Center, Columbus.

In the meantime, they apparently called a friend in Columbus and asked to be picked-up.

Deputy Carmean remained in the area to search for the trio and spotted them walking through a field near Combs Road and Route 56. He traced the car part to their vehicle.

Deputy Carmean, Detective Thompson, and Deputies Bingman and Elaine Miller worked until about 8:30 p.m. Monday questioning the men and preparing paperwork for Tuesday's court hearing.

Municipal Court Judge O. Charles Hosterman, set a preliminary hearing for 11 a.m. May 24 on the charges.

Two Obetz men, Rickey E. Crabtree, 18, and Timothy E. Lebo, 19, face a variety of charges after they apparently drove a stolen car through a newly-planted corn field off Perrill Road.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Fite detained the men for questioning after they had apparently abandoned another vehicle in a field off the London-Lancaster Road.

Deputy Fite believes they are the same men Perrill Road resident Wayne Brown spotted in a field owned by Neal Brown, 9861 Neiswander Road.

The deputy found that entry was gained by crashing through a farm fence. Circular patterns were trenched into the field by the car.

Fite also noted that the car had been parked and was apparently being stripped by the culprits when they were frightened away by Brown.

The car, a 1967 Ford, is owned by Rayford Evans, 5321 Cullen Road, Madison County.

While searching for the men, Deputy Fite found a 1963 model Cadillac abandoned in a field off the London-Lancaster Road. The field had also been damaged by the car, which is apparently owned by a relative of one of the men.

Crabtree and Lebo were detained by Deputy Fite 5:30 a.m. Tuesday on Pontious Road in Franklin County.

In Municipal Court Tuesday, Lebo was placed under $5,000 bond and Crabtree under $1,500 for vandalism and receiving and concealing stolen property.

Deputies expect to have charges of grand theft filed against a 16-year-old Lancaster youth who stole a Taka motorcycle from the Roy Hay home, Route 1, Ashville.

The motorcycle, valued at $350, was taken after midnight Sunday.

Deputy F. R. McCoy investigated an accident involving the youth and the motorcycle 1:18 a.m. The youth, described as a runaway, said he found the motorcycle. Deputies found a bicycle abandoned at the Hay home.

Miss Long Wins $500 Scholarship

The Circleville Junior Women announced today that Vanessa L. Long has been awarded the $500 Annette Phelps Lincoln Scholarship Award from the Ohio Federation of Women's Club.

The Circleville Club sponsored Miss Long for this state awarded scholarship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon J. Long of Route 1, Williamsport. A senior at Westfall High School, Miss Long has been accepted at Kent State University where she is planning to major in pre-library science.

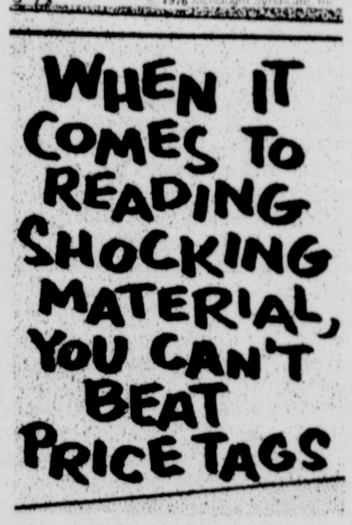
She is editor of "Mustang Country," a member of the French Club, Spanish Club, Prasie The Lord Club, student council, and the National Honor Society. She has been treasurer of her class for the past two years and was a member of the yearbook staff. Miss Long has participated in science fairs both locally and in the district.

The Williamsport American Legion gave her a certificate for her high score on the American history and government test and in state wide competition in the Ohio Achievement Tests she ranked high in English.

Weather

Partly cloudy and cooler today with a chance of showers in the morning, high in the middle 50s. Cloudy and cooler tonight with a low in the 40s. Variable cloudiness and warmer Wednesday with a high in the low 70s. Chances of precipitation, 10 per cent today and tonight and zero per cent Wednesday. High Monday was 66 with a low during the night of 47.

GRAFFITI



Write Own Hughes Will

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—A local newspaper has devised a way for pretenders to the Hughes fortune to show some enterprise and win $5 at the same time.

The Dayton Daily News says it is sponsoring a "Howard Hughes Will Writing Contest." Whoever can devise the best way to divvy up the late billionaire's fortune will win the not-so-grand $5 prize.

"It doesn't seem fair to us that only six (last time we counted) Howard Hughes wills have been found so far," the newspaper said in its Sunday editions. "We're sure that with a little imagination, Daily News readers can think up some pretty far-out Hughes wills of their own."

The rules for the contest are simple: Submit a will, typewritten or however Hughes would have done it. Winners will be judged on the basis of originality and execution but not for authenticity.

"The only things that must be authentic are your name and address—so we'll know where to send the check," the newspaper said.

'Eleanor And Franklin' Cops Emmys

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" was the big winner on the air but it was "Eleanor and Franklin," a two-part drama about the Roosevelt marriage, that emerged as the most honored program of the 1975-76 television season at the 28th annual Emmy Awards.

While "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" was named best comedy series for the second year in a row and captured four other Emmys besides, "Eleanor and Franklin" won four Monday night to add to the seven it had received last weekend.

The four-hour ABC drama grabbed Emmys in four prestigious categories during ABC's national telecast from the Shubert Theater — best comedy or dramatic special, best original screenplay for a special (James Costigan), best direction of a special (Daniel Petrie) and best supporting actress in a special (Rosemary Murphy).

In addition, "Eleanor and Franklin" had picked up seven Emmys in ceremonies held in Los Angeles last Saturday to honor the craft categories — for art direction and scenic design, costume design, makeup, cinematography, film editing, film sound mixing and an individual achievement award for hairstyling.

The other big winner Monday was "NBC's Saturday Night," a brash, satirical comedy show which won four awards, including best comedy-variety series.

Other top honors went to Peter Falk of "Columbo" as best actor in a dramatic series, Michael Learned of "The Waltons" as best actress in a dramatic series, and Jack Albertson of "Chico and the Man" as best actor in a comedy series.

"Police Story" was chosen as best dramatic series and "Upstairs, Downstairs," the English import shown on the Public Broadcasting Service, won its third Emmy in as many years as best limited series.

In addition to being named best comedy series, "The Mary Tyler Moore Show" also copped honors for three of its stars, including Miss Moore as best actress in a comedy series — her third such Emmy on this show and her fifth over-all.

Honored in supporting categories were Ted Knight, the show's egocentric newscaster, and Betty White, the devilish host of a homemaking program. It was the second Emmy for each. Writer David Lloyd also got an Emmy for an episode of the CBS series.

Edward Asner didn't win as Mary's gruff newsroom boss, as he has in previous years, but he did win an Emmy as outstanding lead actor for a single drama or comedy appearance, awarded for his stunning performance as the bitter father of the two Jordache brothers in "Rich Man, Poor Man."

That was one of the few bright spots for ABC's 12-hour dramatization of the Irwin Shaw novel. "Rich Man, Poor Man" had received a record 23 Emmy nominations but wound up winning just four — Asner, Fionnala Flanagan as best supporting actress, David Greene for direction and best music composition for a series.

"NBC's Saturday Night" won Emmys for its writers and director and for comedian Chevy Chase as best supporting actor in a variety or musical show.

Chase — best known for his satiric portrayals of President Ford and also one of the show's writers — and other "Saturday Night" winners provided some of the funniest moments of the evening.

In walking to the podium to accept his acting award, Chase did an elaborate, funny fall — the trademark with which he opens each installment of "Saturday Night." He then proceeded to tell the audience:

"Needless to say, this (award) is totally expected on my part."

And producer Loren Michaels threw in his thanks to New York City, where the show is written and performed, "for providing the rejection and alienation that keeps the comedy spirit alive."

ABC captured most of the major sports awards for such programs as "NFL Monday Night Football," "Wide World of Sports" and the network's coverage of the winter Olympic Games. Sportscaster Jim McKay was

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market headed higher today in some cautious buying after a week of declines.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks gained a fraction in the early going, and advances outnumbered declines by about a 5-4 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Trading was moderate.

Brokers noted that bargain hunters had begun to move tentatively into the market at midday Monday.

They said it appeared a good many investors were sitting tight today, awaiting the results of the presidential primary elections in Maryland and Michigan.

Today's early prices included Teledyne, up ½ at 56¾; Alcoa, unchanged at 53; Continental Oil, ahead ⅛ at 68⅞, and Franklin Mint, down ⅛ at 32½.

On Monday the Dow Jones industrial average posted a 4.96 loss to 987.64, extending its decline over the past five sessions to nearly 20 points.

Charles Hickey Speaker At PCMHA Meeting

MENTAL HEALTH TALK — Charles Hickey was guest speaker for Pickaway County Mental Health Assn., at its annual banquet Monday evening. He stressed the impact of mental strain caused by natural disasters which is often overlooked in the rehabilitation of the physical features which are evident. With him, pictured above, is Leona Riegel, program chairman for the evening.

By MARION SINES
Herald Staff Writer

Charles Hickey of the Circleville DuPont plant was guest speaker for the Monday evening dinner meeting of Pickaway County Mental Health Assn. at Wardell's Party Home.

Hickey, employe relations superintendent for DuPont, talked of tornados stressing the mental effects on residents of the stricken areas. He told of experiences while serving in Topeka, Kan.

In Topeka all residents were aware of the danger of a tornado and drills in factories, schools, businesses, public buildings and homes were carried out regularly and all cooperated and complied with the rules and regulations for such drills. They really didn't ever believe that such a tragedy would come to their city, even though many had caused havoc in nearby communities. Many said that the mound at the edge of the town where Chief Burnett was buried warded off the tornados as the chief had been a very large and powerful man and his spirit guarded them from tornados.

On June 8, 1966, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hickey was in the yard when she saw a formation of dark clouds and ran to tell her parents. The father took his movie camera and went outside, which was against all precautions he had been taught, and watched the tornado form and begin its path of destruction.

The movies he showed began with the clouds shaping into a funnel and then churning and as a suction pump pulling everything in its path up into the air and then tossing them like toys several miles away. Automobiles seemed to be a favorite object for the swirling mass. A wide path through the city was completely destroyed, homes were leveled and businesses and schools including the college were not spared.

Where it was quickly estimated that at least 125 persons had been killed there were actually 17 fatalities. One of the most unnecessary was a five-year-old child who was being taken across the street to a shelter when he broke away and ran up the street only to have the terrific force of the wind hurl a piece of sheet metal at him severing both legs above the knees. He died soon after in a hospital.

Many people had to be rescued from their debris covered basements but most were unharmed. In most emergencies volunteers are willing to aid in rescue and cleaning but in this case there were so many that it was an enormous task to tell many they were not needed and would only be in the way.

As the debris was cleared and everything was bulldozed into trucks and carried away to prevent an invasion of rodents, one woman was found still crouched in a closet in the interior of her home, the only place left undamaged.

The holocaust, with all its physical destruction, was even more damaging to the individuals who not only lost their worldly possessions but for many it was a time of great emotional upheaval from which they needed to be institutionalized, some for long periods of time, and others who will carry the mental scars for the remainder of their lives.

Hickey, who at that time was the local chapter chairman of the Red Cross Chapter in Topeka, worked with rehabilitation and housing for the victims and pointed out a particular instance reflecting the general assistance of the entire city, a pathologist of a major hospital in the city, was planning to move to a large home in the suburbs. He delayed moving and permitted people to live in the house until they could rebuild their homes.

Hickey said that people in this area should be cognizant of the possibility of a like tragedy in this area since "tornado alley" seems to have moved from Kansas eastward. The Xenia tornado does not seem to have spurred any action of significance.

Hickey, a native of Norfolk, Va., completed his machinist apprenticeship in the Norfolk Navy Yard, Portsmouth, Va. He received a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Virginia Polytechnic Institute and was a student coach in lacrosse at the institute. He joined DuPont's film department at Richmond in 1951. He has served in many civic projects and in Circleville is a member of First Presbyterian Church, board of directors of the Second National Bank and was recognized as Boss of the Year of Roundtown Chapter of National Secretaries in 1974. Mr. and Mrs. Hickey and one of their children, Jennifer, reside in Stoutsville. Their daughter, Carolyn, resides in Richmond, Va. and Charles Jr., is a veterinarian in Illinois.

Leona Riegel, secretary of the association was program chairman for the evening. Other officers are Mary Ann Willoughby, president; Mary Mae Yates, treasurer, and Norma Toland, vice-president.

Sheriff's Deputies Handle 5 Injury Accidents Monday

Sixteen-year-old Jeffrey R. Darst, one of five people hurt in separate accidents investigated by Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies Monday, was treated at Mercy Hospital, Columbus, for multiple injuries.

Darst, of Route 1, Orient, suffered abrasions and contusions to his forehead, a laceration under his chin, abrasions and contusions to his chest, a right knee injury, and possible broken ribs in the single car accident 3:53 p.m. Monday on Route 316.

Deputy Sheriff Jim Deal said Darst was driving west on Route 316, a tenth of a mile west of the Columbus-Darbyville Road, when his car skidded 45 feet while entering a curve.

The car drove left of center and off the left side. It was airbourne for 40 feet down an embankment, the deputy said, bounced off another embankment, spun halfway around and hit the embankment.

The 1975 model Chevrolet Vega owned by Dean Darst, Route 1, Orient, was demolished. Deputy Deal said Darst did not have permission to drive the vehicle.

Bradley L. Beatty, 17, Williamsport, was treated at Berger Hospital for facial lacerations and abrasions and possible chest injuries after he lost control of his car by apparently falling asleep.

Deputy F. R. McCoy said Beatty was driving south on the London Road early Monday morning when he apparently fell asleep four-tenths of a mile south of Federal Road intersection.

His car went off the left side of the road and crashed into a South Central Ohio Electric Co. power pole.

Pamela M. Roach, 25, Ashland, Ky., was referred to a doctor for treatment of leg injuries she suffered in a one-car accident 7:35 a.m. Monday on the Ashville Pike, two-tenths of a mile north of Route 752.

Deputy Jim Fite said Ms. Roach was driving south when her car skidded as she was attempting to slow for traffic.

The vehicle went off the right side of the road and crashed into a tree.

Tammy Roach, 4, Rickenbacker Air Force Base, was not hurt in the accident.

Loretta J. Hettinger, 43, Adelphi, suffered shoulder injuries in an accident with a truck 2:08 p.m. Monday on Route 23 at the Circleville - Tarlton Road intersection.

Claude Jude, 33, Minford, was driver of the truck, according to investigating Deputy Nick Franklin.

Ms. Hettinger apparently drove her car into the northbound lane of Route 23 from the exit to Koch's Sohio Station, causing a northbound semi to change from the driving lane to the passing lane.

However, Deputy Franklin said, Ms. Hettinger continued into the passing lane and the semi was forced to change back to the driving lane.

Jude, following the semi when it changed to the passing lane, couldn't get back to the driving lane. He, instead, went into the median strip and hit the rear of Ms. Hettinger's car.

Franklin Welsh, 31, 5010 N. Union St., Ashville, was referred to a doctor for treatment of back and neck injuries he suffered in a two-car accident at the intersection of Main and Walnut Sts. in South Bloomfield 2:25 p.m. Monday.

Welsh had stopped his car at the intersection to make a left turn when his vehicle was struck in the rear by a car driven by 34-year-old Alva R. Boyer, 1965 Ottawa St.

Boyer was charged with failing to maintain assured clear distance ahead by Deputy Sheriff Bill Dountz.

teaching about the Constitution and from the student response he was getting, Pop said he thought he was really getting through. Then, one of the youngsters in the back of the room eagerly put up his hand and Pop thought he had really hit home. All he wanted was change for a quarter.

Fullen said he had taught plenty of parents and later had their children. Some of the students he had in his first class at Ashville were Red Wilson and his wife and Lou Deal. Fullen also remembers teaching Harry Turner at Darbyville.

The nickname "Pop" came with the birth of his son. Fullen said when he came to school the day after Larry was born, one of the little girls in his class said, "Hello, Pop." The name has stuck with him all through the years.

Reflecting on his career, Fullen said if he had it to do all over again, he would go back into teaching. He said the job had its bad moments but he has always found that the good moments far outnumber the bad. He has taught under eight principals but said he has never had the desire himself to go into administration. With the corners of his mouth upturned in mirth, Fullen said he had gone into teaching to be with youngsters "because they help keep you young."

Fullen said he believed students are brighter these days because of all the opportunities they have to learn but he says they are harder to get motivated to use that brightness.

Although he claims discipline has become more of a problem in later years, he admits he has never had to use the "board" since the junior high move to the high school building. Much of this rapport may be due to the parents Pop taught years before telling their children about how he could spank.

Fullen commented that he did not have any major plans for his retirement. He said he did want to travel a bit and spend more time with his family.

A banquet has been planned for Wednesday night to honor Fullen and Fred Brobst who is also retiring from the Teays Valley District after several years of service.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Says Unwed Father Has Right To Know

DEAR ABBY: GRANNY—TO—BE is thrilled at the prospect of becoming a grandmother even though her unmarried daughter, who is on welfare has no plans to marry the baby's father and chooses not to disclose his identity!

You say, "That's her business and her secret."

Abby, don't you think a child has the right to know who his real father is? And don't you think that when the child grows up, he should have the right to get in touch with his real father if he chooses to do so?

Also, maybe the father wants to support his child.

Women talk about WOMEN'S rights. How about MEN'S rights?

MEN'S LIBBER

DEAR LIBBER: Fortunately (or possibly unfortunately), since women literally carry the load alone and deliver it, it is their prerogative as to whether or not to inform the father. And not all fathers are willing to own up to it.

But read on for another enlightened viewpoint:

DEAR ABBY: Concerning the unmarried mother-to-be who is on welfare and prefers to keep the identity of her baby's father a secret: According to you, it may be her business and her secret, but that baby becomes the taxpayer's burden, and we taxpayers are sick and tired of supporting illegitimate children.

With all the resources available to prevent pregnancies, there is no excuse for any sexually active female to bear a child! And why should the father be excused from the responsibility of supporting his child? Yet, you would let taxpayers assume this responsibility because some 21-year-old female decides she wants to be a mother.

SHIRLEY, MARY ALICE, LOIS, MARGIE AND JACQUELINE

DEAR ABBY: My husband's new teeth don't fit him right and he talks funny, but that's not the problem. Every time I ask him to repeat something, he gets mad at me and says, "Why don't you get a hearing aid?"

Abby, there is nothing wrong with my hearing. It's the way he talks. Lately I have to be careful not to ask him to repeat anything for fear he'll take my head off.

How can I handle this problem without starting World War III?

AL'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Make a deal with Al. Tell him that you will have your hearing tested if he'll go back to the dentist who made his new teeth and get an adjustment.

6 Found Guilty Of Bank Robberies

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Six men have been found guilty by a federal jury of charges in connection with 10 bank robberies in Dayton in 1975.

A U.S. District Court jury returned guilty verdicts Saturday after deliberating 15 hours at the end of a three-week trial.

Found guilty of one count each of conspiracy to commit armed robbery and three counts of armed bank robbery were Terry Francis Gallagher, 29; David Lee Brown, 31; and Kenneth Leon Hale, 21, all of Dayton.

Clayton Colwell Jr., 23; and James Adams III, 26, also of Dayton, each were found guilty of one count of conspiracy. Colwell was convicted of five counts of armed robbery and Adams of six counts. Each was found innocent of one charge of armed robbery.

Edward Pitts, 30, of Eaton, was found guilty of conspiracy to commit bank robbery. He was found innocent of aiding and abetting armed bank robbery.

Fort Sandusky was a blockhouse built as a trading post near the site of the Ohio city of the same name about 1750.

Computers Becoming Hobby For Many Persons

BURLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — "One day at school I saw this funny-looking thing with blinking lights," said 17-year-old Roger Walker of his first encounter with the nation's newest hobby: the digital computer.

"I dropped in to see what it was, then I just kept coming back. I really got hooked on it," added Walker.

Computers — for a long time highly sophisticated and vastly expensive machines requiring platoons of technicians, programers, mathematicians and engineers to run — now are being sold and used by amateurs. It's happening just the way ham radios and high-fidelity sets passed into the hands of hobbyists of earlier generations.

The nation's first electronic computer, developed at the University of Pennsylvania's Moore school in the 1940s, took several years to build and cost close to $20 million. But technological developments have made it possible to build an equivalent computer for as little as $500.

The advance which makes possible hobby computers is the "microprocessor," a device which does everything the room-sized original at the University of Pennsylvania could do — yet fits on the area of a fingernail and is only millimeters thick.

"This hobby didn't exist five years ago," said Douglas Callihan, 35, a network radio technician in Boston. "Except for the very wealthy, no one had them in his house."

"We used to consider ourselves fortunate when freshmen had calculus. Now we are getting students who have already built their own computers," said Peter Jessel, a computer scientist at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge.

These small, inexpensive and versatile computers can be used for many things, from playing games to solving very technical problems.

"You can connect the computers to your television to play video games, like ping-pong, or you can connect it to a speaker to play music," Jessel explained.

Walker uses his to grade students' tests.

Geoffrey Feldman, 24, a freelance engineer from Amherst, says he's pursuing more sophisticated goals.

"I dropped out of school, and I'm using the computer to educate myself. I'm getting about 10 times the education for the cost," Feldman says.

"Electronic music is getting very involved, and the computer can take over some of the work," he explains. "I had known people were making microprocessors, and I knew it was just a matter of time before the prices began to drop."

"I play games — like backgammon or chess; store some tax information and eliminate a lot of paperwork from my life," Callihan says. "I'm also using it for a lot of common garden variety things, like watching the house with devices that act as eyes."

Until recently, inexpensive computer equipment was not readily available to the general public. But now Massachusetts hobbyists have their own specialty shop, "The Computer Store," here.

Sidney Halligan, 45, and Dick Brown, 43, are owners of the store, one of about a dozen computer hobbyshops in the nation.

"With the low cost and the availability of these computers, they are going to be as much a part of everyday life as the toaster," Halligan believes. "The younger people are going to be in the computer age whether they like it or not.

"Now that there are low-cost computers, the pressure is mounting to develop programs to do domestic tasks," said Dr Steve Ward, an MIT professor. "They have become cheap enough so that we can expect them to have a serious impact on household management within the next decade."

"It's not a freak idea. It is the second revolution for computers: computers for the people. It is the beginning of a new kind of computer marketing," according to Halligan. "It is a new retail distribution method of what used to be a very complicated product."

His customers, ranging from age 10 to 65, can buy all kinds of computer parts, including the processing unit, the memory, and connections to hook computers to items already in the home. Halligan says an entire system runs from $700 to $1,200. When completed it looks like a small box and can sit on a table.

"The 'biggies' are starting to catch up to this thing," Feldman adds, referring to the computer "kits" being sold by large computer firms, including Intel, Signetics and MOS Technology.

"It's an exploding marketplace," says a spokesman for Intel, the nation's largest producer of microprocessors. Intel's sales last year totalled $137 million.

Staffs at The Computer Store are trained to help untangle the electronic knots. "There are some people who are clumsy, so we do have backup here. If they really mess something up, we'll help them get it working," Halligan says.

Halligan and Brown also sell the computer hobbyist magazine, BYTE, and display information about the New England Computer Society, a hobbyists'club.

BYTE Magazine published by Carl Helmers, 28, and Virginia Peschke, in Peterborough, N.H., is the best known of the hobby publications.

"We have 50,000 subscribers, and it keeps going up," Helmers says. "I think we'll top out at 200,000 to 300,000 people building kits in two to three years."

Zeroing On Pushers

As study after study on the subject of drug crimes in the United States show, society, victims the junkies use to finance their habit and the addicts themselves are continuing to lose. The only winners in drug traffic are the pushers who manage to evade the law.

It is they who must remain the prime target of law enforcement, if trafficking in heroin nad other hard drugs is not to continue gnawing at society like a cancer. The cost this misery brings to the United States is incalculable, both in lives and property.

Youths who die from overdoses are easily identified, but what of the tens of thousands of others who are hooked on a daily diet of mind-wrecking euphoria interlaced with the never-ending need to refinance their expensive dependence through crimes of all kinds? And what of the victims they prey upon, whose monetary losses alone were estimated at $17 billion by the President in his recent drug abuse message to Congress?

Dealing sternly with the pusher will not wipe out the drug traffic, but it certainly will act as a deterrence in the facts uncovered by a 1974 Justice Department study which found one-fourth the convicted heroin traffickers served no time in prison, and another one-third received sentences of less than three years with parole available after one-third of the sentence was served.

Getting tough with the pusher also may mean getting tough with the judiciary.

Today In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Tuesday, May 18th, the 139th day of 1976. There are 227 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1804, Napoleon Bonaparte was proclaimed Emperor of France.

On this date:

In 1951, the United Nations moved from Lake Success, N.Y., to its new headquarters in Manhattan.

In 1974, India set off its first atomic blast, becoming the world's sixth nuclear power.

Ten years ago: Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara proposed that every young man in the United States give two years of service to his country.

Five years ago: The U.S. Congress ended a nationwide railroad strike by granting signalmen a wage increase and ordering their walkout to end until at least the first of October.

One year ago: Secretary of Defense James Schlesinger announced the number of casualties in the U.S. rescue of the merchant ship Mayaguez from Cambodian captors: Three American marines and two airmen killed, 16 other Americans missing and 70 to 80 wounded.

Today's birthays: Singer Perry Como is 63. Ballerina Margot Fonteyn is 57. Writer John Updike is 44.

Thought for today: Napoleon did supremely well many things that it was supremely ill to do — Herbert Samuel, English Liberal leader, 1870-1963.

Bicentennial footnote: Two hundred years ago today, Gen. John Sullivan wrote to Gen. George Washington from Albany, N.Y., that some Continental officers had applied for pay for military companies which did not exist or were sharply reduced in numbers.

Scheherazade In Rock

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — Hope and help at last are on hand for parents of teenagers who live in a constant aural jag — the result of a steady diet of amplified rock.

Now there is "Classical Rock," an ingenious mixture of the rock beat with the eloquent instrumental beauty of the music masterpieces.

The new sound is converting many of the hyped-up generation into a crowd of kids who are discovering that the classics are more than just the province of the senile, the infirm and square parents.

My 14-year-old son, Rusty, a solid fan of the "classical rock" revolution, claims that, of three or four groups who record and concertize in the new tradition, the best is a quintet from England which calls itself "Renaissance." Pop music critics tend to agree; one declared that Renaissance's sound is "destined to do for modern music than what THE Renaissance did for art and the general state of mankind . . ."

And the chief reason for the group's success is the remarkable human voice which serves as its lead instrument — an operatically trained voice which flows easily across a span of five octaves — belonging to a girl named Annie Haslam.

Miss Haslam is a delicate lass from the industrial town of Bolton, England, who dreamed of being an opera star while her young friends were screaming allegiance to the early Beatles. The dream didn't come true because her father, a truck driver, couldn't afford the costly lessons that would have been necessary. But she did have nine months of coaching with England's Sybil Knight — and when she met up with a former hard-rock group which was considering incorporating sweeping classical sounds into their music, she was ready to be their human flute and cello.

"We didn't know, of course, whether we would find a very large audience when we began doing material inspired by composers like Rimsky-Korsakov, Debussy, Shostakovitch and Rachmaninoff," says Annie in a bright British accent, "but we felt we could get the same excitement from this kind of art form as from pure rock. And it worked. Now I get a lot of fan letters from American kids saying they think, after listening to us, that they'll get into the classics."

Annie writes back, suggesting recordings they should buy — classics like "Introduction and Allegro for Strings" by Edward Elgar, and Symphony No. 5 by Shostakovitch. "I tell them about all the classics I used to listen to when I was their age. Composers like Elgar, Tchaikovsky, Vaughn Williams and Mozart used to excite me the same way the Beatles excited most of my friends."

Growing up in a tiny house on a cobblestoned, gas-lit street "with a toilet in the back yard," Annie's dream was to get away and become famous. The town of Bolton had three cotton mills and "there was smoke in the air all the time." Her aunt and uncle were light-opera singers who would take her backstage during performances, and she dreamed, endlessly, of being onstage. "But I couldn't sing in front of anybody, ever. I was much too shy." One night, thinking herself alone, she was watching the telly and singing along with the theme song of "The Saint." Her sister-in-law, a professional singer, heard the amazing voice — Annie can reach the G above high C — and hurried her off to Sybil Knight the next day. "The first time she gave me a breathing exercise, it made me so dizzy I fell over," says Annie, "but I learned to do it correctly and a few months later I was with the group. We'd record in the studio with a full orchestra, but when we'd go out on the road, we couldn't afford to take an orchestra with us.

"That's when I had to learn to sing all the flute and string parts. It did amazing things to my range. "And amazing things for Renaissance.

Describing Classical Rock is infinitely harder than listening to it. It incorporates the rhythm of rock with the sweep of the classics, utilizing three lead instruments — Annie's voice, keyboard nd electric bass. The other pop groups which play classics-oriented material on occasion are Rick Wakeman and Emerson, Lake and Palmer. But they use a synthesizer, which is a mechanical substitute compared with Annie Haslam's straight, pure tones. Renaissance, which regularly has sold-out concerts in America's biggest concert halls, has made six records, performs their own material (with beautiful lyrics by Cornish poet Betty Thatcher), and was named top vocal combination of 1975 by Record World.

Asked why Classical Rock — like other rock forms — so often originates in England rather than the U.S., Annie muses, "I think because we have more musical history to draw from than Americans have. And there is nothing really new in pop music, any more than in fashion — evertyhing traces back to the past.

"Here, if you go back to your musical roots, you go back to the blues and 'Old Black Joe.' Over there, our tradition is classical and that's where we've drawn our inspiration."

Is Classical Rock a genuine trend?

"I should hope so," says Annie.

Amen to that.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — John Wright, the investment advisor, is aware that the economy has made a substantial recovery from the depths of a year ago and he rejoices in the improved living conditions this has meant for Americans.

But he is outraged too.

He is appalled at the complacency with which some officials accept a 7.5 per cent jobless rate. He is mystified why some Americans, including perhaps the chairman of the Federal Reserve, feel interest rates have sunk very low.

Over-all, he is angry that some officials are beginning to fear the economy has advanced so far that it is time to raise interest rates and begin putting on the brakes. This he views as insanity.

"Interest rates," he commented a few days ago, "are in fact actually at or above the levels which caused all of the prior post-war recessions: in 1960-61, 1957-58, 1953-54 and 1948-49."

As he views the economy, the mystery "is not the 'low' level of interest rates, but rather the unprecedented sluggishness of a 'recovery' which has not yet reduced unemployment significantly below even the highest level recorded before the 1974-75 recession."

He notes also that the recovery "has not yet restored utilization of productive capacity to even those levels which, in the past, marked the lowest rate of productivity during recessionary periods."

Wright operates Wrights Bankers' Service, highly regarded by managers of bank trusts and other institutional portfolios who, in all, handle many hundreds of millions of dollars of investment funds.

Contrary to the widely held belief that high interest r$tes curtail an economy that is growing too fast, Wright maintains that high interest rates are themselves a cause of inflation and economic destruction.

"Just how high this barrier has become is clear enough to the citizen who finds that it costs him 50 per cent more to pay for a house with a 30-year, $35,000 mortgage at 9 per cent than at 5 per cent," he commented in a report to clients this week.

The difference between the monthly payments of $282 and $188 adds up to almost another $35,000 for total mortgage payments, he noted, adding this conclusion:

It could scarcely be more obvious that the high cost of money is by far the most serious impediment to economic recovery and the greatest inflationary element in our economy today.

Wright argues that our concepts about monetary policy are old-fashioned and incorrect. "Clear thinking and modern knowledge should be applied," he said. "We need good thinking to accomplish our national goals."

The Federal Reserve is said to be thinking of nudging interest rates higher in fears that the recovery will get out of hand and lead to more inflation. And that, Wright preaches, is precisely wrong.

Newspaper Clark Beach Dies

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Clark J. Beach, owner of the former Lancaster Gazette, died Sunday. Beach was associated with the Gazette and later the Lancaster Eagle-Gazette for 59 years. He was 87.

Born in Zanesville, he began his newspaper career with the Gazette as a bookkeeper in 1908. Between 1910 and 1913, he became editor, publisher and owner of the newspaper, a position he held until 1936, when the paper merged with the Lancaster Eagle.

Beach was a major stockholder and member of the board of directors of the Eagle-Gazette until its purchase by Thomson Newspapers in 1967.

He is survived by two sons, T. Jack Beach of Mount Vernon and William C. Beach of Cincinnati, eight grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Can you explain in a simple way the difference between nearsightedness and farsightedness?

Mr. J.V., Ore.

Dear Mr. V.

To simplify the workings of such a delicate mechanism is always a challenge. Let's try.

When rays of light enter the eye from all directions, they pass through the opening of the lens of the eye.

These rays form an image on the retina of the eye. The retina is the highly sensitive inner lining of the back of the eyeball.

When these light waves hit the retina, they are converted into electrical waves and are carried to the brain.

Now, by experience, a person learns to recognize an image and differentiates between a house, a human, an animal or a bicycle or any of the many images we see daily.

Nearsightedness, or myopia, results when the eyeball becomes less round, oval-shaped and elongated. Now the light rays strike in front of the retina rather than directly on it. This produces disturbance of vision.

In nearsightedness vision is better for near objects than for distant objects.

Farsightedness, or hyperopia, is a condition in which the eyeball is less round, too, and elongated in an up-and-down position. Consequently, the light rays passing through the lens hit slightly beyond the retina.

With this disorder, vision is better for distant images than it is for near ones.

Is it always necessary to remove impacted wisdom teeth?

Miss F.M., W. Va.

Dear Miss M.:

There was a time, many years ago, when impacted teeth were considered a health hazard and were routinely removed.

Today, such surgery is performed when impacted teeth interfere with the growth structure of the jaw, or when they affect the normal bite (or occlusion) of the teeth.

When impacted teeth become a source of infection, or when they impinge on nerves and cause pain, surgical removal is considered.

Before coming to such a decision, dental surgeons use many techniques to establish the diagnosis.

Hospitals Ignore Medicaid Cutbacks

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Hospitals in Ohio are providing normal services to their welfare patients, though the welfare department cannot resume reimbursing them until July, spokesmen said Monday.

Hospital officials say they are continuing to serve Medicaid patients, but administrators say they would have to pass along the cost of any permanent cuts to regular paying patients.

The state welfare department was ordered by a federal judge last week to maintain existing levels of Medicaid service. But the department says it has run out of money to pay accounts until the start of the new fiscal year on July 1.

With prospects of receiving money within two months, hospitals will probably not terminate any services, said Norman Spuehler, spokesman for the Ohio Hospital Association. "It's very likely that hospitals could view the present arrangement as something they could live with," Spuehler said.

Leonard Rinaldo, president of the Ambulette and Wheel Chair Service Inc., said while service by transportation companies has not changed, there has been a drop off in use of ambulance and specially equipped vans for the handicapped.

"Some of these people are old and they're confused and afraid to use these services," Rinaldo said. His organization represents companies throughout the state that transport wheel chair and stretcher patients.

Medical transportation was one of the programs that would have been cut by the Department of Public Welfare.

State officials are continuing to discuss a solution to the funding problem in the welfare department's budget for Medicaid. A special legislative committee has been investigating the situation.

State Budget Director William W. Wilkins said he told the committee last week that he is opposed to a temporary transfer of funds to the welfare department, saying a temporary solution could compound the problem next year.

"We were opposed to a temporary transfer of funds until we can get some solution to the longer range problem," Wilkins said.

The welfare department projected a $40 million deficit in its accounts early this year and called for reductions in the Medicaid program to make up the deficit.

Julie Denies Book Story

NEW YORK (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower says a new book's portrait of her mother as withdrawn and drinking heavily during the Watergate crisis is "one distortion I cannot live with."

On the contrary, Mrs. Eisenhower wrote in Newsweek Magazine's current issue, Pat Nixon was active with trips and public appearances and was President Nixon's main inspiration to continue his job during the 18 months of scandals before his resignation.

"This is hardly the schedule of a reclusive heavy drinker tuned out to the needs of her family and consumed by her own problems," wrote Mrs. Eisenhower.

The former president's daughter gave her strong defense of her mother in rebuttal to the portrait painted of Mrs. Nixon in "The Final Days" by Bob Woodward and Carl Berstein.

Ohio Man Dies On Fishing Trip

PETERSBOROUGH, Ont. (AP) — A man from Jenera, Ohio, in Hancock County died Sunday while fishing with friends, officials said.

Officials said the man, Jess Gruber, 61, fell into Rice Lake, 35 miles east of Petersborough, when he was trying to start the motor on a boat.

Two companions also fell into the water but were rescued, officials said.

Woman Joins Police Force

DALLAS (AP) — Three days before her police officer husband died of cancer last January, Sandra Maxey, 30, sat next to him in his hospital room and told him she had been accepted as a police recruit.

"I knew you could do it," he told her. The next day he went into a coma and died 48 hours later.

On June 3, Mrs. Maxey, mother of two, will graduate from the 17-week cadet training course and will begin her career in law enforcement.

Mrs. Maxey said she first applied to the Dallas Police Department in 1972, about a year after her husband, Robert, joined the police force. But she withdrew the application after she became pregnant with her second son.

"It was something I had always wanted to do and, after my husband's death, the work helped keep me going," she said.

Constitutional Amendments Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans are being admonished not to regard lightly a series of June 8 ballot issues designed to update and modernize their state constitution.

Issue 7, for instance, like the others a result of lengthy study by the Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission, seeks to insert into the document two basic fiscal policies which have been in practice for many years.

"If they are already in practice, then why vote on them?," one might ask. The answer, from government officials, is simply that future court decisions or enactments of the legislature could take away or alter what has proven to be sound policy. The people alone can authorize changes in the state's basic government guideline.

First, Issue 7 refines language in an existing section requiring the state each year to raise sufficient money to pay the principal as well as interest on state indebtedness.

The proposed amendment makes it clear that such moneys must cover principal as well as interest, the requirement for principal not being spelled out in existing language.

The 32-member revision commission, consisting of five members each from the Senate and House and a score of citizens, said in its recommendation on this item it will cause no change in the way state debt is managed or paid. But it added: "The effect of the amendment is to retain a fiscal policy which has proven sound."

Secondly, Issue 7 mandates that not less than 50 per cent of the estate taxes collected by the state must be returned to the county, city, school district, or other local subdivision where the tax was levied. Again, this is current practice.

However, the constitution doesn't specifically mention the estate tax among others—income and inheritance—which the state divides equally with the affected political subdivisions.

In its rationale for the second part of Issue 7, the commission said the intent "is to change the language of this section to reflect contemporary usage and add a specific reference to the estate tax." The need for the amendment, it added, is underscored by a widespread belief "that the people of Ohio would not today accept the repeal of these provisions."

Like other commission proposals on the June ballot, with one exception, Issue 7 has drawn no significant opposition. Such issues at times are voted down, however, for lack of understanding, backers have claimed.

The one commission proposal running into significant opposition this spring is Issue 1, which would have Ohio's governor and lieutenant governor run for election as a team.

Bond Reduced In Pot Case

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — Bond has been reduced for seven men arrested in a large marijuana seizure west of Bay St. Louis last week.

The men had been held in lieu of $100,000 bond each in the Hancock County Jail since last Wednesday.

Circuit Judge J. Ruble Griffin Griffin set bail Monday for Jack P. Zatz, 37, of North Lauderdale, Fla., at $75,000, while bonds for the other six men were set at $50,000 each.

DAC ANNIVERSARY — A luncheon and program at Wardell's Party Home was held Wednesday by Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, celebrating the organization's 50th anniversary. Shown from the left are Mrs. Martin Cromley, past regent and chairman of the program committee; Mrs. Verne Silbaugh, chapter regent; Mrs. John L. Frazier, chairman of the hostess committee, and Mrs. Hershel Dunmire, state regent.

Old Trails Chapter DAC Observes 50th Anniversary With Program

Old Trails Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists, celebrated its 50th anniversary Wednesday at Wardell's Party Home.

Mrs. Verne R. Silbaugh, regent, welcomed guests and members who were then introduced. State officers present were Mrs. Hershell A. Dunmire, regent of Plain City; Mrs. E. William Monter Sr., recording secretary, Cincinnati; Mrs. Elza H. Miles, treasurer, Columbus; Mrs. Harry A. Emrich, lineage chairman, Columbus.

Mrs. Loren P. Shaw, chaplain, led devotions and Mrs. J. Leroy Frazier led the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America. A letter of congratulations on the anniversary was received from the national regent.

Highlight of the luncheon was the decorated anniversary cake, cut by Mrs. Dunmire and Mrs. Silbaugh.

Mrs. Silbaugh opened the business meeting. Mrs. Martin Cromley announced that Mrs. Richard H. Hedges' paper titled "Pickaway County Indian Lore" had won first place at the National level and Mrs. Myron D. Neasse's paper "A Courageous Grandmother" won third place. Mrs. Silbaugh reported that the public relations reports by Miss Helen Mettler for newspaper and radio placed second.

Members were reminded of the DAC state picnic on June 30 at the home of Mrs. Robert Mitchell, near plain City, and the fall State Assembly at Warren, Oct. 8-9.

A gavel made from the famous Logan Elm Tree was given to Mrs. William C. Moore, the organizing regent of May 25, 1926 with compliments of the Ohio State Archeological and Historic Society. It has been used by all Old Trails past regents.

Past regents, Mrs. Harry Emrick and Mrs. Robert K. Fox spoke of past experiences and Mrs. Martin Cromley read "Memories For Our 50th Anniversary." She began the history by telling of a mother and daughter spending a few months in the summer of 1922 at a lake near Cleveland. The daughter learned of the society being organized in Ohio. Her mother's papers on Governor Thomas Welles were accepted and she became a member in the fall of 1922 and of the National Society in 1923. The only chapter in the state was in Lorain and so Mrs. William C. Moore and Mary Frances Duryee became members there.

Mrs. Theodore R. Oehlke, state regent of Ohio, appointed Mrs. Moore as the organizing regent for a Columbus chapter. Nine days later on May 24, a meeting was called and a luncheon held at the Neil House followed with the first business meeting.

A committee had been appointed by the regent to draft a constitution and by-laws and consider names for the chapter, selecting Old Trails as it seemed appropriate. Old Trails was the third chapter to organize in Ohio.

On Feb. 12, 1930, the subject of the State Assembly was presented and Mrs. Myers Y. Cooper invited the chapter to hold its conference at the Governor's Mansion. The chapter has served as hostesses and co-hostesses for 15 times.

In 1969 the bronze plaque marking the Scioto Trail Warrior's Path, which was placed at the entrance of the Deshler Hotel in 1941 had to be removed as the hotel was being torn down. Mrs. Harry Emrick presented it to the Franklin County Historical Society for safe keeping.

As one of the chapter's bicentennial projects it has presented the DAC lineage books to the State Library in memoriam for deceased members and loved ones. The second project was planting Buckeye Trees.

The chapter is noted for its work at the Chillicothe Veterans Administration Hospital. Programs for the chapter have been varied and mostly patriotic, historical and educational.

Mrs. Cromley concluded by saying "This history, though not complete, I would like to present it as a contribution to our Golden Anniversary."

Mrs. Dunmore, state regent, was introduced by Miss Mettler. Her talk was on "Patriotism In Music." To help celebrate the anniversary she presented a horseshoe and read a poem. She reminded members that America is blessed with music. She told of the early hymn books and songs and said the Pledge of Allegiance had been set to music. One song often sung today "God Bless America" was written in 1918 by Irving Berlin, but was not made popular until it was sung by Kate Smith in 1938. She snded her talk by asking all to participate in singing verses she wrote to the tune of "Memories."

Members of the hostess committee were: Mrs. J. Leroy Frazier, Mrs. Martin Cromley, Mrs. Leroy H. Cromley, Mrs. T. Leroy Cromley and Mrs. Richard H. Hedges.

Ashville Senior Citizens Meet At Village Church

The regular monthly all day meeting of the Ashville Senior Citizens was held at the Village United Methodist Church, Thursday.

Morning hours were spent visiting and playing games, and signing up to go to the Governor's Conference on Aging on May 25, and to the 1st annual Hall of Fame Banquet on June 9, both at the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

A carry-in dinner at noon was enjoyed by all. Vera Saunders offered the table prayer. Kitchen duties were in charge of Franceil Cromley. Virgil Six arranged the tables and chairs for the meeting.

The program for the afternoon was presented by Mrs. Orwell Barr. Deborah and Orwell Barr have travelled a great deal, and felt it appropriate, in this, the country's bicentennial year, to present a program showing interesting places from coast to coast, all of which held an important place in the growth and history of the nation. Mrs. Barr provided a very interesting history lesson in words and pictures.

Everett Shriver, president, conducted the meeting. Members were invited to sign up to go to the annual Governor's Conference at the State Fairgrounds on May 25 and 26, and also to the Hall of Fame banquet on June 9 at which Mrs. Louise Heine will be honored. This will also be at the Rhodes Center at the State Fairgrounds. "Happy Birthday" was sung to Jennie Eccard and Harold Bumgarner, both of whom had May birthdays.

A resolution of sympathy to the family of Paul Kuhlwein was passed, and a copy will be sent to Helen Kuhlwein.

Everyone was invited to the all day meeting which will be held at Trinity Lutheran Church, Circleville, on May 27. This will be a ham and bean and cornbread dinner at noon. Everyone should bring table service. A free will offering will be taken to cover expenses. Those who cannot eat beans may bring their own sack lunch. Birthday cakes will be provided for dessert. Guests are always welcome. Call 474-4916 or 474-8209 for more information in transportation.

Two bus loads of Ross County Homemakers made the trip to Marietta on Thursday where they had lunch and then enjoyed a boat ride on The Little Gem, visited the River Front Museum and toured the Fenton Glass works where they saw the items being made in several different ways. Those going from Kingston were Mrs. Bernice Immell, Miss Marvene Holderman, Mrs. William Meadows, Mrs. Russell Wolfe, Miss Hazel Dixon, Miss Grace Dresbach, Mrs. David Pontious, Mrs. Leslie Dearth, Mrs. Carroll Minor, Mrs. John B. Thomas and Mrs. Rondeau Counts.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delong and children, Amy and Douglas had as their guests on Sunday, her grandmother, Mrs. Grace Patterson of Bellbrook, her parents and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Don Patterson and Tom of Adelphi and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Patterson of Lancaster. The occasion was the birthday of Mrs. Delong and her sister-in-law.

Mrs. Juanita Townsend of Ringgold was the weekend guest of Mrs. James Seymour.

Mrs. Loring E. Hill and Mrs. O. E. Gibson attended the mother-daughter banquet at the Colrain Church Friday evening. About 75 persons were present and the speaker was the Rev. Edna B. Hughes of Logan with special music by the Neffs, a mother and her two daughters. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Herman Hinton.

Mrs. James Seymour was one of the guests when Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Harper and children entertained with a surprise party for her son and Mrs. Harpers' father, Merle Seymour, last Wednesday night at their home in Tarlton. Other guests were Mrs. Seymour and her mother, Mrs. Lily Rizer and their other daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Leming and children, Becky, Mike, Brian and Janie of near South Bloomfield.

Mrs. Dudley Briggs and children, Beth Ann, Julia, Mark and Robert of Columbus stopped here for their aunt, Miss Lily Krafthefer and all went to their home place at Long Run Road near Laurelville, for a picnic dinner on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth DeLong were visiting his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Darrol DeLong at their home in Atlanta, Ga. several days last week.

To celebrate his birthday anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Parker Jr. and son Joe had dinner Sunday at Famous Recipe and afterward called at the homes of their other sons, William, Robert and James and their families, all of which are in the Circleville area.

The WSCS of the Kingston United Methodist Church met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harley Davis with Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Dwight Davis and Mrs. Elizabeth Bennett assisting. The president, Mrs. Cecil Bower, presided at the business session and Mrs. Herbert Lemley had charge of the program from the study book.

Mrs. William Meadows gave the devotions and she told how Neil Armstrong and his companion had Communion on the moon and of the disapproval of Mrs. Madeline Murray O'Hare to scripture read from outer space by another team of astronauts. The group has decided to dine out in July.

Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart dined with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Stewart in Portsmouth, Friday night.

In the presence of their parents and brothers and sisters, seven little girls went through the Brownie 'Fly-up' ritual that made them Girl Scouts, Monday evening. The ceremonies were held in the Park with Ginger Hatter, president of the Brownies, giving a welcoming speech followed by the blessing by Wendy Allen. After supper, the girls gave the Brownie Promise and each one had a part in presentation of the Brownie Law.

The Troop, 1036, had previously planted a dogwood tree in the park and they gathered there to sing, "He Has The Whole World In His Hand" and "The Brownie Smile Song."

Mrs. Russell Hutchinson, Troop Leader, presented the Girl Scout Pins to Erin Hutchinson, Ginger Hatter, Diane Davis, Casey Dyer, Anita Wolfe, Wendy Allen, Deane Schadle and gave each girl a rose. Mrs. Darrel Hatter is the assistant troop leader.

Radiation Physicist Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Riverside Hospital's radiation physicist was suspended after administrators began to suspect human error not mechanical failure may have caused radiation overdoses to 275 cancer patients last month, a hospital spokesman says.

Riverside public relations director Tom Clark said if it were human error it could be cause for dismissal.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission regional office in Chicago, which was called in to investigate the overdoses, confirmed that faulty equipment may not have been the cause as first believed.

"It now appears excessive radiation treatments were not due to a defective probe but were an error in calculation," said Jan Strasma, public affairs officer for the regional office of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

"Apparently the person doing the plotting (charting amounts of radiation patients received) was using incorrect data," she said.

Hospital officials said patients received as much as 40 per cent too much radiation from cobalt treatments between March 1975 and January 1976. An early explanation had been that the device used to measure amounts of radiation had failed.

"As we said originally, regardless of the cause, we have to take the responsibility for the whole thing," Clark said.

Doctors were reviewing each patient's case to determine the extent of side effects. No deaths have been attributed to the overdoses.

Northerly winds following a cold front that moved through Ohio Monday have sent temperatures reeling. Morning lows fell to the 40s and 50s and highs today were expected to reach only the 50s and 60s.

A large high pressure in the Mississippi Valley is moving slowly eastward and will dominate the weather across Ohio for the next few days.

Cloudiness was to decrease slowly from the west while a few showers lingered in the east today.

Skies will be partly cloudy tonight and Wednesday. Temperatures will fall back to the 30s and 40s tonight.

Moderating temperatures will move into Ohio Wednesday as southerly winds spread more sunshine and push afternoon highs to the 60s and the 70s south and the 50s and 60s north. Continued warming is forecast for the rest of the week.

Demo Hopeful Stanton Seeks Image

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. James V. Stanton is a candidate in search of recognition, provocative issues and his gadfly opponent in the low key campaign for the Democratic nomination to the Senate.

"An awful lot of people are concerned about 'who is Jim Stanton?'" admits the congressman from Cleveland's 20th District.

Despite his six-year record in Washington, the 43-year-old Stanton was little known outside northeastern Ohio when he entered the primary race last winter.

His major opponent, Howard Metzenbaum, is familiar to many Ohioans after taking part in three Senate campaigns over the past six years, although, as Stanton is fond of pointing out, Metzenbaum has not been elected to public office since 1948.

Stanton makes no secret of his image as a political animal, but in television advertisements aimed at downstate Ohioans, the political side is not stressed.

The campaign is expected to play up Stanton's recent endorsement by House Speaker Vernal G. Riffe, Jr., D-89 New Boston, who wields considerable political clout, particularly in the southern half of the state.

About 6-foot-2, husky and informal, he shifts impatiently in his seat during an interview, draping his leg over an arm of the chair, then twisting and plopping his other leg over the other side. He is polite, but not given to small talk.

"I feel people are very interested," Stanton insists when asked about a news story describing the campaign as lackluster. "I feel that interest everywhere I go."

Perhaps, but at the same time he has attempted to open up the campaign. He has accused Metzenbaum of ducking debates in a ploy to "tiptoe into the Senate on name recognition alone."

"He does not want to come out second best, and he knows this exposure will hurt him," Stanton said recently in an obvious effort to draw out his doggedly low-key opponents.

Both men have attempted to run positive issue-oriented campaigns thus far, saving their heavy fire for the man each hopes to oppose in November, Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio.

One result has been that campaign-watchers question what they will debate when they do meet face-to-face.

"I said the differences would come out in the course of the campaign," Stanton says. "I never anticipated he would not appear or duck debates." Metzenbaum denies he is avoiding his rival.

Stanton generally sticks with accepted liberal issues, while at the same time expressing concern for erosion of individual liberties and overregulation by the federal government.

He believes localities should be given more leeway in use of revenue funds sharing and law enforcement assistance federal funds. He suggests that his opponent favors the current strings-attached approach.

Calley Weds In Georgia

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Former Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr., once convicted of murdering civilians in Vietnam, has married the daughter of a Columbus jeweler.

Calley, 32, met Penny Vick, 29, several years ago in one of her father's stores. They were married by candlelight Saturday at St. Paul United Methodist Church, the first marriage for both.

Five years ago, Calley was convicted of the murder of 22 Vietnamese civilians. He was sentenced to life imprisonment, a sentence later reduced to 10 years.

The conviction was reversed in 1974, only to be reinstated later by the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans. The U.S. Supreme Court recently refused to hear an appeal of that decision.

Calley is on parole and military authorities say he will remain free unless he violates parole.

One meat dish, one covered-dish and table service are to be brought. Beverage and rolls will be provided.

See Waiting Lines For License Tags

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans seeking to purchase new license plates during the last few days of May may face long waiting lines, warns Curtis Andrews, motor vehicles registrar.

Andrews said sales of plates have dropped off from the beginning of the month. He reminded drivers that all license plates must be replaced by the end of the month to avoid penalties.

Because of Memorial Day, motor vehicle offices around the state will have their last regular business hours of the month on Saturday, May 29.

The fine for driving with expired plates is usually $25, Andrews said.

Colby Claims CIA Still Best

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — The CIA remains the world's best intelligence gathering institution despite recent disclosures, according to former Central Intelligence Agency Director William E. Colby.

"Some of the CIA programs were disclosed in the Senate Intelligence Committtee report, but no important names were published and no important sources were identified," Colby told a news conference Monday prior to a speech at Miami University.

Colby said that some sources may have been lost to the CIA, not by being identified, but by being convinced "Americans can't keep secrets."

Colby said he is retired and on pension but remains under secrecy restraints. He added that he is writing a book on intelligence activity.

Colby listed some of the useful results of the publication of the intelligence committee reports:

—Endorsement of public guidelines on what intelligence agencies should and should not do.

—Creation of a single oversight committee.

—Ultimate public realization of the need and the nature of intelligence activities.

—Assurance that "there has not been massive wrong doing.

"Its true that in some cases over the past 28 years, the CIA went over the edge of propriety, perhaps because of ambiguity of directions or eagerness to go ahead and meet a major challenge.

"It is true that there have been instances of crisis in which the national executive did not want to inquire too closely into what was being done. But it is an agency of the executive branch, operating under laws passed by Congress and reponsive to constitutional restraints," Colby said.

Seek Data About Plots

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate intelligence committee is asking the Justice Department for FBI "assassination files" that may shed more light on American attempts to assassinate Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, DMinn., a committee member, said Sunday that staff members discovered the file's existence "in just the last week or 10 days."

"Atty. Gen. (Edward H.) Levi has been written, asking that those files be produced, and also asking why on earth we were not told about them," Mondale said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Committee staff members said later that they have seen an index to the files, but not the files themselves. The index reveals that the FBI knew about CIA plots against Castro, they said.

The Senate aides said the files were discovered by committee investigators probing the actions of the CIA and FBI before and after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The Warren Commission's ignorance of CIA plots to kill Castro has been cited repeatedly as a major flaw in the investigation which concluded that Lee Harvey Oswald was the lone assassin.

BALLOT LANGUAGE, EXPLANATIONS, AND RESOLUTIONS FOR AMENDMENTS TO THE OHIO CONSTITUTION PROPOSED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS AT THE PRIMARY ELECTION, JUNE 8, 1976

1 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend Article III, Section 3 and Article V, Section 2a, to adopt Article III, Sections 1a and 1b, and to repeal Article III, Section 16, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR TO BE ELECTED JOINTLY WITH THE GOVERNOR AND TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW THE METHOD OF NOMINATING CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR AND LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR.
2. TO RELIEVE THE LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR OF THE DUTY OF PRESIDING OVER THE STATE SENATE AND TO PROVIDE THAT HIS DUTIES SHALL BE THOSE ASSIGNED TO HIM BY THE GOVERNOR AND THOSE PRESCRIBED BY LAW.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL

Section 1b of Article III authorizing the governor to assign duties in the executive department to the lieutenant governor and the repeal of Section 16 of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 1

The Ohio Constitution currently provides for the governor and lieutenant governor to be elected separately. This frequently results in the election of a governor and lieutenant governor of opposing political parties. The proposed amendment would require the nominees of a political party for the offices of governor and lieutenant governor to run as a team in the general election. A single vote would be recorded as a vote both for the candidate for governor and his running mate for lieutenant governor.

The amendment would not require the candidates for governor and lieutenant governor to "team up" before filing their petitions of candidacy, unless the General Assembly so provides by law. The General Assembly would be free to provide that candidates for governor and lieutenant governor would not run as a team in the primary. Separate ballots would be cast for both offices in that case. The amendment requires that the nominees for governor and lieutenant governor run as a team in the general election.

Presently the lieutenant governor as presiding officer of the Senate has the authority to resolve a tie in that body when it is equally divided and also to sign all legislation certifying to the correctness of the legislative procedure. This amendment would relieve the lieutenant governor of his duties as presiding officer, leaving it to the Senate to choose one of its own members as presiding officer. The lieutenant governor would then perform whatever duties are assigned to him by the governor, in addition to any duties which the General Assembly may assign to him by law.

2 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 14 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

TO AUTHORIZE THE STATE, LOCAL GOVERNMENTS, AND REGIONAL TRANSPORTATION AUTHORITIES TO LEND THEIR AID AND CREDIT TO FEDERAL CORPORATIONS, SUCH AS AMTRAK AND CONRAIL, AND TO AN AGENCY OF THE STATE TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE WITHIN THE STATE.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IS AUTHORIZED TO PROVIDE PROPERTY TAX REDUCTIONS FOR PROPERTY USED TO PROVIDE RAIL TRANSPORTATION SERVICE AND TO REIMBURSE LOCAL GOVERNMENTS FOR THE REVENUE LOST AS A RESULT OF SUCH TAX REDUCTIONS.

TAX MONEYS MAY NOT BE USED FOR THE REPAYMENT OF ANY DEBT INCURRED FOR THESE PURPOSES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 2

The purpose of the amendment is to permit the state and its subdivisions to aid federal corporations and state agencies to provide rail transportation service within the state.

To accomplish this the state, its political subdivisions, or a regional transportation authority may give or loan its credit to aid corporations created under federal law, such as Amtrak and Conrail, or state agencies which have been created to provide rail transportation service. The General Assembly is authorized to provide by law for this procedure.

Laws could be passed to reduce taxation of property which is used to provide the state with rail transportation service. They could also permit reimbursement of local government units for revenues lost to a local government because of property tax reductions.

Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations which are issued for these purposes.

3 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend section 13 of Article VIII, Ohio Constitution

TO INCLUDE ENERGY FACILITIES AMONG THE PURPOSES FOR WHICH PUBLIC INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT BONDS MAY BE ISSUED AND LOAN GUARANTEE PROGRAMS UNDERTAKEN WITHOUT OBLIGATING OR PLEDGING MONEYS RAISED BY TAXATION, PROVIDED THAT SUCH OBLIGATIONS SHALL NOT BE MADE FOR FACILITIES OWNED OR LEASED BY PUBLIC UTILITIES.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 3

The stated purpose of the resolution is to enable state revenue bond and loan assistance to industrial and commercial firms that undertake self-help efforts to produce natural gas, oil, or other forms of energy for their own use.

To accomplish this the proposed amendment would authorize financial aid for energy development and use facilities to any governmental agency or to any private individual or firm but prohibits such aid to public utilities, as defined by law. Such financing is done through issuance of revenue bonds or guarantees or loans, with moneys for repayment coming from the operation of the facilities. Moneys raised by taxation may not be obligated or pledged for payment of the bonds or guarantees.

4 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 4 and to repeal sections 3 and 5 of Article V, Ohio Constitution

1. TO CONFORM THE OHIO CONSTITUTION TO THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION AND TO FEDERAL COURT DECISIONS BY LOWERING THE VOTING AGE TO EIGHTEEN AND ELIMINATING THE SIX MONTHS RESIDENCY REQUIREMENT.
2. TO PERMIT THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, BY LAW, TO DENY PERSONS CONVICTED OF A FELONY THE PRIVILEGE OF VOTING OR BEING ELIGIBLE FOR PUBLIC OFFICE.
3. TO REPEAL PROVISIONS GRANTING VOTERS PRIVILEGE FROM ARREST AND REPEAL THE SECTION WHICH PROHIBITS MILITARY PERSONNEL FROM VOTING FROM A RESIDENCE ON A MILITARY INSTALLATION WITHIN THIS STATE.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 4

The Ohio Constitution provisions setting the voting age at 21 and a residency requirement within the state of six months have been invalidated by federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and at the present time persons by right of federal law can vote at the age of 18 and with residence requirements as required by federal law. This amendment merely brings the Ohio Constitution into accord with federal court decisions and amendments to the federal Constitution and federal statutes pertaining to voting.

The amendment removes unnecessary language with regard to particular felonies that may cause ineligibility as to voting and holding public office.

The section which prohibits the arrest of electors in or going to or from a polling place is repealed because there is a similar provision already in the law.

The section which prohibits a person from acquiring a voting residence on a military installation in this state is repealed because it has been held to be unconstitutional by the federal court.

5 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY CHARTERS TO PROVIDE FOR TERMS OF EVEN-NUMBERED YEARS FOR ELECTED OFFICERS.
2. TO REQUIRE VACANCIES IN ANY ELECTIVE STATE OFFICE CREATED BY ARTICLES II AND III, AND BY OR PURSUANT TO ARTICLE IV TO BE FILLED ONLY AS PROVIDED IN SUCH ARTICLES. VACANCIES IN ELECTIVE STATE OFFICES NOT SO CREATED SHALL BE FILLED BY THE GOVERNOR UNTIL A SUCCESSOR CAN BE ELECTED FOR THE UNEXPIRED TERM.
3. THE PROVISION AUTHORIZING THE GOVERNOR TO FILL A VACANCY IN THE OFFICE OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS REPEALED.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 5

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to remove from the Constitution language which either duplicates or is inconsistent with language elsewhere in the Constitution relating to terms of, and vacancies in elective office.

If this amendment is adopted and should the office of lieutenant governor be vacant, that office could not be filled by the governor. If the office of governor subsequently becomes vacant, then the president of the Senate would become governor as provided in Section 17, Article III.

The amendment adds a provision which would require municipal and county charters to provide for terms of office of even-numbered years for elected officers.

6 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 7 and to repeal section 11 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO MAKE PROVISION FOR RETIREMENT OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS AND NOTES OF POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS FROM LEGALLY AVAILABLE SOURCES NOT LIMITED TO PROPERTY TAXES AND FOR LIMITATIONS BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY ON THE AMOUNTS OF SUCH BONDS AND NOTES ISSUED BY POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS.
2. TO REQUIRE THE TIMELY PAYMENT OF PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST OF GENERAL OBLIGATION DEBT INCURRED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION.
3. TO REPEAL CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS OPERATING TO INDIRECTLY LIMIT THE AMOUNT OF DEBT THAT MAY BE INCURRED BY A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION WITHOUT A VOTE OF THE ELECTORATE.
4. TO REPEAL REQUIREMENTS THAT POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS CREATE A SINKING FUND FOR THE REPAYMENT OF DEBT AT MATURITY.

SCHEDULE

The Secretary of State shall assign section 11 if on the effective date of the amendment section 7 is already assigned.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 6

The amendment provides for the repayment of general obligation bonds and notes of political subdivisions from legally available sources not limited to property taxes. The General Assembly has the authority to limit the amount of the bonds and notes which may be issued by political subdivisions.

The Constitution presently limits the amount of property tax that can be imposed without a vote of the electors. This provision remains unchanged by this amendment.

Reference to the state is not included in the new section because limitation on and provision for retirement of state debt are made in other sections of the Constitution.

The proposed amendment requires timely payment of political subdivision debt and repeals the requirements of establishing sinking funds for the repayment of debt at maturity. Most incurred indebtedness is now represented by bonds maturing serially (a portion of the principal of the debt becomes due periodically rather than all at once, thereby permitting repayment on the installment plan), and the requirement for a sinking fund is no longer necessary.

7 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To amend sections 4 and 9 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO REQUIRE A RETURN OF NOT LESS THAN 50 PERCENT OF THE ESTATE TAXES TO POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS IN WHICH THEY ORIGINATE, AS MAY BE PROVIDED BY LAW.
2. TO REQUIRE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO RAISE SUFFICIENT REVENUE ANNUALLY TO PAY THE PRINCIPAL AS WELL AS INTEREST ON THE STATE DEBT AS IT BECOMES DUE.

SCHEDULE

The Secretary of State shall assign section 9 if on the effective date of the amendment section 6 is already assigned.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 7

The proposed amendment conforms the Constitution to current fiscal practices by:

1. Requiring that the state annually raise sufficient moneys to pay the principal as well as the interest on state debt. Currently this section only requires raising sufficient moneys to pay the interest.
2. Mandating that not less than 50 percent of the estate taxes be returned to the political subdivisions in which they originated (county, school district, city, village, or township), as provided by law. Since Ohio has moved to the estate tax, a portion of that tax should be returned to the source from whence it was collected similar to the return required for inheritance and income taxes.

8 PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

To adopt section 3 of Article XII and to repeal sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII, Ohio Constitution

1. TO AUTHORIZE THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO PROVIDE BY LAW FOR THE AMOUNT OF AN ESTATE WHICH IS EXEMPT FROM TAXATION.
2. TO CONSOLIDATE TAXING POWERS WHICH ARE IN FOUR SECTIONS INTO ONE SECTION.

(Proposed by Resolution of the General Assembly of Ohio)

A majority affirmative vote is necessary for passage.

	YES	SHALL THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT BE ADOPTED?
	NO

EXPLANATION OF ISSUE NO. 8

The Ohio Constitution currently limits the amount which may be exempted from estate taxation to the sum of $20,000. The amendment repeals any limit on the maximum value of an estate that could be exempted from taxation. Statutory law could grant exemptions from estate taxation in excess of $20,000.

Four sections of the Constitution dealing with the taxing power of the state are consolidated into a single section and extraneous language has been eliminated.

FULL TEXT OF THE RESOLUTIONS PROPOSING EACH AMENDMENT

ISSUE 1

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 4)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V, to enact sections 1a and 1b of Article III, and to repeal section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to require the Lieutenant Governor to be elected jointly with the Governor, and to provide for the duties of the Lieutenant Governor.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V, to enact sections 1a and 1b of Article III, and to repeal section 16 of Article III of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE III

Sec. 1a. In the general election for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, one vote shall be cast jointly for the candidates nominated by the same political party or petition. The General Assembly shall provide by law for the nomination of candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

Sec. 1b. The Lieutenant Governor shall perform such duties in the executive department as are assigned to him by the Governor and as are prescribed by law.

Sec. 3. The returns of every election for the officers, named in the foregoing section, shall be sealed and transmitted to the seat of Government, by the returning officers, directed to the President of the Senate, who, during the first week of the session, shall open and publish them, and declare the result, in the presence of a majority of the members of each House of the General Assembly. The joint candidates having the highest number of votes cast for Governor and Lieutenant Governor and the person having the highest number of votes for any other office shall be declared duly elected; but if any two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes for the same office or offices, one of them or any two for whom joint votes were cast for Governor and Lieutenant Governor, shall be chosen by the joint vote of both houses.

ARTICLE V

Sec. 2a. The names of all candidates for an office at any election shall be arranged in a group under the title of that office. The general assembly shall provide by law the means by which ballots shall give each candidate's name reasonably equal position by rotation or other comparable methods to the extent practical and appropriate to the voting procedure used. At any election in which a candidate's party designation appears on the ballot, the name or designation of each candidate's party, if any, shall be printed under or after each candidate's name in less prominent type face than that in which the candidate's name is printed. An elector may vote for candidates (other than candidates for electors of President and Vice-President of the United States, and other than candidates for Governor and Lieutenant Governor) only and in no other way than by indicating his vote for each candidate separately from the indication of his vote for any other candidate.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 3 of Article III and section 2a of Article V shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE AND REPEAL

Section 1b of Article III authorizing the Governor to assign duties in the executive department to the Lieutenant Governor and the repeal of section 16 of Article III shall not take effect until the second Monday in January, 1979.

ISSUE 2

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 85)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio by adding thereto Section 14 to authorize the State, local governments, and regional transportation authorities to lend their aid and credit to a corporation created under the laws of the United States and to an agency of the State to provide rail transportation service to the State, and to authorize the General Assembly to provide property tax reductions for property used to provide rail transportation service, and to reimburse local governments for the revenue lost as a result of such tax reductions.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a general election to be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to enact Section 14 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Sec. 14. For the public purpose of providing the state with modern and efficient rail passenger and freight transportation service, the credit of the state, and pursuant to laws passed for such purpose the credit of any city, county, village, township, or regional transportation authority, may be given or loaned to, or in aid of, a corporation created under the laws of the United States, such as the National Railroad Passenger Corporation (AMTRAK) or the Consolidated Rail Corporation (CONRAIL), or an agency created under the laws of Ohio, to provide rail transportation service in the state, and laws may be passed to reduce the taxation on property used to provide the state with rail transportation service, and to provide for the reimbursement of local government units out of the general revenue fund for revenue that may be lost as a result of any such property tax reduction.

The laws passed pursuant to this section and the lending of aid and credit pursuant to this section shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or of sections 2, 6, and 11 of Article XII of the Constitution, provided that money raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of any bonds or other obligations issued pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect.

ISSUE 3

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 39)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to authorize issuance of bonds for projects that conserve energy or energy resources.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend Section 13 of Article VIII of the Constitution of Ohio to read as follows:

ARTICLE VIII

Section 13. To create or preserve jobs and employment opportunities, to improve the economic welfare of the people of the state, to control air, water, or thermal pollution, to dispose of solid waste, or to develop, produce, recover, store, transport, utilize, or conserve energy or energy resources, it is hereby determined to be in the public interest and a proper public purpose for the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, to acquire, construct, enlarge, improve, or equip, and to sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of property, structures, equipment, and facilities within the State of Ohio for industry, commerce, distribution, and research, to make or guarantee loans and to borrow money and issue bonds or other obligations to provide moneys for the acquisition, construction, enlargement, improvement, or equipment, of such property, structures, equipment and facilities. Laws may be passed to carry into effect such purposes and to authorize for such purposes the borrowing of money by, and the issuance of bonds or other obligations of, the state, or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, its or their agencies or instrumentalities, or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities, and to authorize the making of guarantees and loans and the lending of aid and credit, which laws, bonds, obligations, loans, guarantees, and lending of aid and credit shall not be subject to the requirements, limitations, or prohibitions of any other section of Article VIII, or Article XII, Sections 6 and 11, of the Constitution, provided that moneys raised by taxation shall not be obligated or pledged for the payment of bonds or other obligations issued or guarantees made pursuant to laws enacted under this section.

Except for facilities for the development, storage, production, transportation, utilization, or conservation of energy or energy resources which are not owned or leased by public utilities as defined by law, and except for facilities for pollution control or solid waste disposal, as determined by law, no guarantees or loans and no lending of aid or credit shall be made under the laws enacted pursuant to this section of the Constitution for facilities to be constructed for the purpose of providing electric or gas utility service to the public.

The powers herein granted shall be in addition to and not in derogation of existing powers of the state or its political subdivisions, taxing districts, or public authorities, or their agencies or instrumentalities or corporations not for profit designated by any of them as such agencies or instrumentalities.

Any corporation organized under the laws of Ohio is hereby authorized to lend or contribute moneys to the state or its political subdivisions or agencies or instrumentalities thereof on such terms as may be agreed upon in furtherance of laws enacted pursuant to this section.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect, and existing section 13 of Article VIII shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 4

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 16)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 1 and 4 of Article V, and to repeal sections 3 and 5 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to the qualifications of electors, to remove unconstitutional and unnecessary language.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at the special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 1 and 4 of Article V and repealing sections 3 and 5 of Article V as follows:

ARTICLE V

Section 1. Every citizen of the United States, of the age of eighteen years, who has been a resident of the state, county, township, or ward such time as may be provided by law, has the qualifications of an elector, and is entitled to vote at all elections.

Section 4. The General Assembly shall have power to exclude from the privilege of voting, or of being eligible to office, any person convicted of a felony.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting therein, this amendment shall take immediate effect and existing sections 1 and 4 and sections 3 and 5 of Article V shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 5

(Amended Senate Joint Resolution No. 19)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, relative to elections, terms of office, and vacancies; to remove language which duplicates and may be inconsistent with other constitutional provisions and to effect nonsubstantive changes.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII as follows:

ARTICLE XVII

Section 1. Elections for state and county officers shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in even numbered years; and all elections for all other elective officers shall be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November in the odd numbered years.

The term of office of all elective county, township, municipal, and school officers shall be such even number of years not exceeding four as may be prescribed by law or such even number of years as may be provided in municipal or county charters.

The term of office of all judges shall be as provided in Article IV of this Constitution or, if not so provided, an even number of years not exceeding six as provided by law.

The General Assembly may extend existing terms of office as to effect the purpose of this section.

Section 2. Any vacancy which may occur in any elective state office created by Article II or III or created by or pursuant to Article IV of this Constitution shall be filled only if and as provided in such articles. Any vacancy which may occur in any elective state office not so created, shall be filled by appointment by the Governor until the disability is removed, or a successor elected and qualified. Such successor shall be elected for the unexpired term of the vacant office at the first general election in an even numbered year that occurs more than forty days after the vacancy has occurred; provided, that when the unexpired term ends within one year immediately following the date of such general election, an election to fill such unexpired term shall not be held and the appointment shall be for such unexpired term. All vacancies in other elective offices shall be filled for the unexpired term in such manner as may be prescribed by this constitution or by law.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting thereon, this amendment shall take immediate effect and existing sections 1 and 2 of Article XVII shall be repealed from such effective date.

ISSUE 6

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 10)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to enact new section 7 and to repeal section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to require political subdivisions to make provision for timely payment of debt from taxation or other sources of revenue and to specify that the property tax limitations imposed by Section 2 of Article XII cannot be exceeded except as permitted or authorized by such section, and to repeal obsolete sinking fund requirements.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by enacting new section 7 and repealing section 11 of Article XII thereof as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 7. So long as any bonds or notes which are general obligations of a political subdivision are outstanding, such political subdivision shall at the times required make provisions for the timely payment of the principal of and interest on such bonds and notes by providing for and collecting by taxation or by any other means by which such subdivision is authorized by this Constitution or by law to obtain moneys for such purposes and by appropriating sufficient amounts for such purpose. If at any time the officers or other authority of the subdivision having responsibility for making such provisions for the timely payment of principal and interest fail to do so, the treasurer or other officer having charge of the receipt of moneys of the subdivision shall set aside from lawfully available moneys of the subdivision, including those first received thereafter, sufficient amounts for such payment and shall apply such moneys thereto. This section and section 2 of Article XII of this Constitution do not directly or indirectly limit the amount of general obligation debt which may be incurred by a political subdivision but the General Assembly may, by law, provide for limitations on such amounts. This section does not authorize the levy of any ad valorem property tax other than as authorized or permitted by section 2 of Article XII of this Constitution.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule shall take immediate effect, and section 11 of Article XII shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE

If, on the effective date of this amendment, section number 6 is already assigned to a section in Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio, the Secretary of State shall assign section number 7 to the section in Article XII enacted by this amendment and such number shall be the official number of such section and shall be so published in any publication of the Constitution and shall be cited and referred to by such number.

ISSUE 7

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 14)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to amend sections 4 and 9 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio to clarify language and make nonsubstantive changes in language.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by amending sections 4 and 9 of Article XII thereof as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 4. The General Assembly shall provide for raising revenue, sufficient to defray the expenses of the state, for each year, and also a sufficient sum to pay principal and interest as they become due on the state debt.

Section 6. Not less than fifty per cent of the income, estate, and inheritance taxes that may be collected by the state shall be returned to the county, school district, city, village, or township in which said income, estate, or inheritance tax originates, or to any of the same, as may be provided by law.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment and schedule shall take immediate effect, and existing sections 4 and 9 of Article XII shall be repealed from such effective date.

SCHEDULE

If, on the effective date of this amendment, section number 6 is already assigned to a section in Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio, the Secretary of State shall assign section number 9 to the section in Article XII that would be amended by this amendment to include a renumbering of the section from section 9 to section 6, and such number shall be the official number of such section and shall be so published in any publication of the Constitution and shall be cited and referred to by such number.

ISSUE 8

(Amended House Joint Resolution No. 15)

JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing to enact section 3 of Article XII and to repeal sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII of the Constitution of the State of Ohio, to consolidate into one section provisions for imposition of taxes, and to clarify language in such provisions.

Be it resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio, three-fifths of the members elected to each house concurring therein, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state in the manner prescribed by law at a special election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in June, 1976, a proposal to amend the Constitution of the State of Ohio by enacting section 3 of Article XII, and repealing sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII thereof as follows:

ARTICLE XII

Section 3. Laws may be passed providing for:

(a) The taxation of decedents' estates or of the right to receive or succeed to such estates, and the rates of such taxation may be uniform or may be graduated based on the value of the estate, inheritance, or succession. Such tax may also be levied at different rates upon collateral and direct inheritances, and a portion of each estate may be exempt from such taxation as provided by law.

(b) The taxation of incomes, and the rates of such taxation may be either uniform or graduated, and may be applied to such incomes and with such exemptions as may be provided by law.

(c) Excise and franchise taxes and for the imposition of taxes upon the production of coal, oil, gas, and other minerals; except that no excise tax shall be levied or collected upon the sale or purchase of food for human consumption off the premises where sold.

EFFECTIVE DATE AND REPEAL

If adopted by a majority of the electors voting on this amendment, the amendment shall take immediate effect and sections 7, 8, 10, and 12 of Article XII of the Constitution of Ohio shall be repealed from such effective date.

RAFB Sets K-9 Demonstration For Open House

Security is their main business but showsmanship is a common sideline for the men and dogs assigned to the 301st Security Police Squadron patrol dog (K-9) section, according to Sgt. Gregory H. Clinque of Rickenbacker Air Force Base.

Sergeant Cinque will narrate the dog demonstration scheduled for the base open house May 29. In addition to the dog show, the 20-man K-9 section will exhibit a military working dog equipment display.

The section will use eight of its 15 dogs for the open house show, according to the kennelmaster, TSgt. Robert E. McNees. One of the dogs will be Sam. "He's the kennel clown," said Sergeant Cinque. When they visit orphanages and make other appearances in the community the K-9 troops normally take Sam because he is friendly and will let kids pet him.

Open house spectators will see the dogs perform functions that they are exposed to daily, either in their work or training. The dog show starts at 3 p.m. and will include basic obedience, controlled aggession and a simulated robbery. "There may be a majijuana demonstration," said Sergeant Cinque. Some of the dogs have been trained for and perform secondary roles in detecting narcotics or explosives.

Sergeant Cinque said the show for the open house would be similar to the one the section puts on at the Ohio State Fair. The open house is free and open to the public. Gates open to the public at 10 a.m. and events continue until 5 p.m. There will be three air shows, aircraft display, exhibits and other activites.

Monday Night Sports Specials

Giant Television Added At Giovanni's

HEART OF SYSTEM — The control panel is the heart of the special TV system at Giovanni's Pizza. Images are projected to the huge screen by means of the three color globes, and the speaker is also aimed at the curved screen to produce a life-like effect.

Though his emphasis is still on those mouth-watering pizza combinations, Randy Gilmore has some innovations for customers at Giovanni's Pizza - changes that will make the pub a definite "must" on nights away from the house.

Monday nights have been added to the list of specialties at Giovanni's, where a giant television screen will team up with reduced prices on beer to make the ABC baseball and football games much more enjoyable.

Gilmore recently installed the TV set, a mammouth Advent Videobeam, in a prominent place in Giovanni's so that the huge six-foot by four-foot screen can be seen from all locations in the dining area.

Gilmore, a sports fan, also plans to open Giovanni's extra hours, primarily when special sports events and games are televised. Almost every game presented on the local cable channels will be shown at Giovanni's, he said, even if it means opening earlier.

The three color projectors on the main television control panel are capable of exhibiting the perfect color TV picture, according to Gilmore. The TV speaker, also located on the control panel, is aimed at the huge curved screen to give the larger than-life-size images the impression that they are actually speaking.

And, as a bonus, the TV set emits absolutly no radiation and is very economical to operate.

The TV set is always on, he said, and is not always tuned in to sports shows. "We'd like people to come in and have a good time," he said. Persons wanting to watch special nighttime shows are invited to stop by and voice their requests.

Submarine sandwich fans will enjoy it on Wednesday nights, when they get those reduced-priced subs that Giovanni's makes so well.

And rock music fans will enjoy it on Friday and Saturday nights, when the TV show "In Concert" is televised.

Some other special interest items are two pinball machines, the only football game in town, and a juke box stocked with all the latest hit records.

To better acquaint customers with the foosball machine, Gilmore is planning to hold a tournament later in the year.

But, no matter how good the entertainment, there still has to be a drawing card. And at Giovanni's, it's pizza and subs.

Pizzas come in 10, 12, and 15-inch sizes and can be made into a variety of combinations. Basic ingredients are cheese, pepperoni, mushrooms, sausage, mango, onion, olive, and hot peppers.

Subs can be ordered with lettuce and tomato, and meatball hoagies are also available.

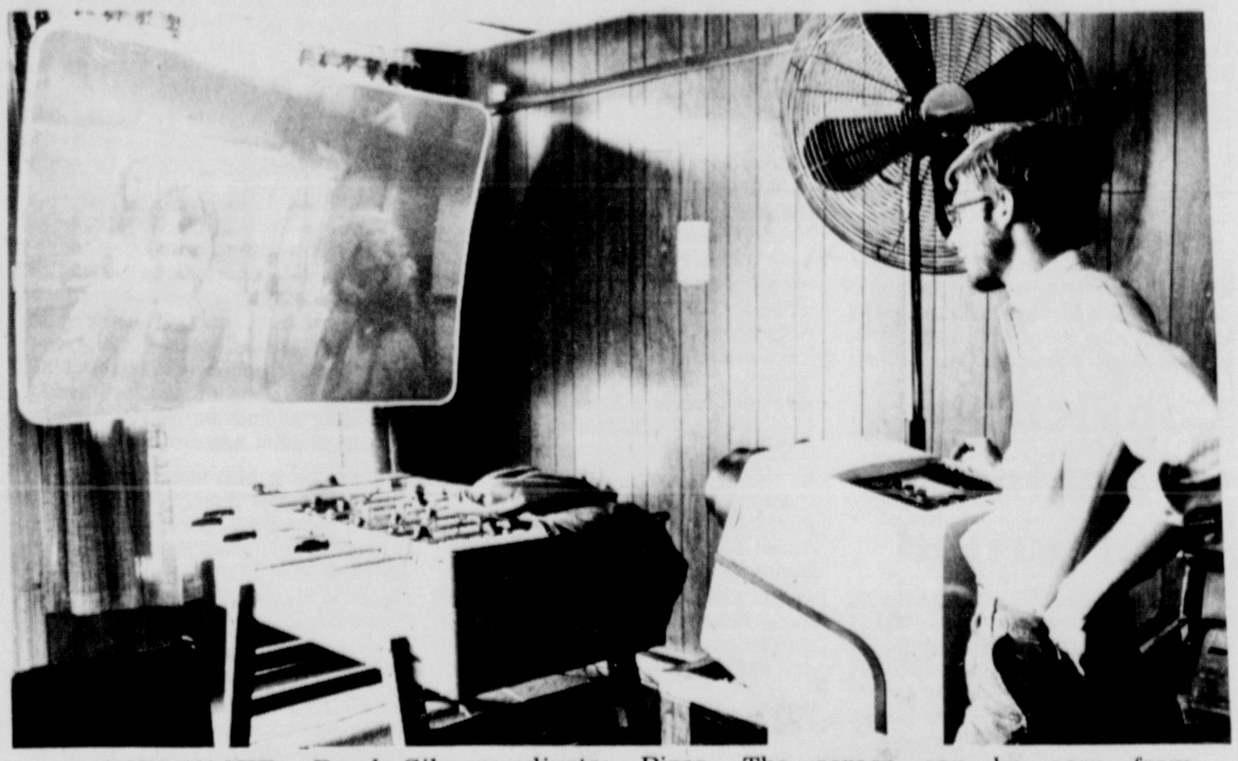
An assortment of soft drinks and beer are available for consumption in the booths or at the well-styled bar. Beer includes all the popular brands.

People who can't stop in and enjoy the entertainment and friendly atmosphere at Giovanni's can still share in the food.

Delivery boy Chuck Lawson will see that your order is filled and will promptly make delivery to your door from 6 p.m. to 11 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, and from 6 p.m. to midnight on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Regular hours at Giovanni's are 4 p.m. to 1 a.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 4 p.m. to 12 midnight on Sunday and Monday.

Others waiting to serve you at Giovanni's are Carol Anderson, Bruce Rogers, Lois McCoy, and Mr. and Mrs. Duck Clements.



ADJUSTS TV SET — Randy Gilmore adjusts the color controls on the huge television set he has installed for patrons of Giovanni's Pizza. The screen can be seen from everywhere in the dining area and is capable of reproducing the perfect TV image.

BEHIND THE BAR — Randy Gilmore, owner and operator of Giovanni's Pizza, checks supplies at the well-styled bar. All popular brands of beer and soft drinks are available at the bar, and customers can easily see the giant TV screen located near the front door.

Zane Trace Announces Commencement Plans

Zane Trace High School is announcing its upcoming activities in regards to the graduating seniors. The seniors will be departing on their annual senior trip May 27 to Florida. A week's stay will include Disneyworld, Daytona Beach, Cypress Gardens, Hyatt House, Hawaiian Inn, and Sea World. They will be returning on June 2.

Class night activities will be held on June 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Valedictorian and salutatorian addresses will be given this night plus the yearly distribution of academic awards in all subject areas grades 9 through 12. The senior wills and prophecies will also be read along with the class history.

The grand finale will be commencement exercises on June 5, at 8 p.m. The commencement will be held at Sugarloaf Mountain Amphitheatre with Jim Walz as the speaker. Walz is currently manager-employee and community relations for the Kenworth Truck Company, Chillicothe. He is very much interested in educational excellence at any level. Presently, Mr. Walz is serving as a member of American Society for Personnel Administration, Salvation Army Board, Chillicothe Corrections Institute Citizens Advisory Board, and Ross County — Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce with Special Assignment for Economic Understanding.

Although Walz is in an administrative capacity he is widely-known as an hourly production line worker.

The public is invited to the commencement exercises with reserved tickets available by calling the school at 775-1809.

Conviction Of Pastor Overturned

CLEVELAND (AP) — The standing committee of the Episcopal Diocese of Ohio Monday voted unanimously to take no action on an appeal's court overturning of a lower church court's conviction of the Rev. L. Peter Beebe.

The Rev. Mr. Beebe was tried and convicted last year on charges that he violated church law and the orders of his bishop in permitting irregularly ordained women priests to celebrate communion at Oberlin's Christ Episcopal Church.

The appeals court overturned the decision, saying the lower court made legal errors in the trial. The appeals court also said that the lower court should have considered the validity of the priesthood for women instead of concentrating on the priest's purported violation of church cannon.

The standing committee could have recommended a new trial or could have dropped the charges.

The Rev. Mr. Beebe, who was rector of the Oberlin church, has since been removed from that post by his bishop at the request of the church's vestry.

John S. Rea, the priest's lawyer, said that the priest welcomes a new trial in order to examine the women issue, a question that will be addressed by the church's General Convention next September.

The Rev. Mr. Beebe has allowed women concelebrants into his church many times, even after he was told not to do so after his conviction. The priest has insisted that he couldn't wait until the church possibly changes its stand on the woman priest issue.

Rubber Talks Continue

CLEVELAND (AP) — United Rubber Workers and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. tried once again today to tackle the economic issues which has kept 60,000 union members on strike since April 21.

An additional 2,400 union members working for General Tire & Rubber Co. were given a reprieve when both sides agreed to continue negotiating although their contract expired at midnight Saturday. Those talks are being held in Canton, Ohio.

The URW, in its talks here, hopes that a settlement with Firestone will set the pattern for pacts with the Goodyear, Goodrich and Uniroyal tire and rubber companies.

The URW has asked for a total pay package that will grant them a 42 per cent increase, a boost the union says it needs to keep pace with the United Auto Workers. Another major issue centers on how a cost of living adjustment is calculated.

The strikers will have to do with a reduced strike benefit check this week.

Medic Yields Ohio License

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio (AP) — A doctor who pleaded guilty to seven counts of violating drug laws in New Jersey voluntarily has surrendered her license to practice medicine in Ohio.

Dr. Peregrina C. Delarosa, 53, also has resigned her position as staff physician at Gallipolis State Institute for the mentally retarded. The institute's medical director, Dr. Kenneth Upp, said he ordered her to resign or be dismissed.

Delarosa and her husband, Francisco, 53, await sentencing after pleading guilty to violation of New Jersey drug laws. They previously had surrendered their New Jersey medical licenses.

The husband, a 20-year Navy veteran, is disabled with high blood pressure and emphysema, according to Dr. Upp, and receives a Navy pension.

Triple Death Investigated

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police are investigating the deaths of a Cincinnati army recruiting commander and two members of his family who were found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning Monday.

Springfield Township Police identified the victims as Lt. Clyde Tilly Jr, 40, his wife Delores, 44, and daughter Becky, 14. It was not immediately determined how long they had been dead.

Tilly's son Phillip, 15, was hospitalized for shock at Bethesda Hospital. Police said he called a life squad Monday afternoon when he was unable to waken the family.

Police said Mrs. Tilly's body was found in the family car in an enclosed garage. The other victims were found in separate bedrooms located above the garage.

Shoemaker Cited For Legislation Benefitting Aged

State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (88th House District) announced today that he has been cited in a report released by the Ohio Commission on Aging, Martin A. Janis, Director, as having voted in the affirmative on some particular bills that the Council on Aging considered to be of significant benefit to senior citizens in Ohio.

Some of the bills specifically named will; allow use of school buses by senior citizen groups; prohibit discrimination in wages because of age; create a nursing home commission (included was the vote to override the Governor's veto of this bill); allow use of school lunch facilities for the elderly; and the House passed a bill to prohibit age discrimination.

Many other bills affecting our elder citizens, either directly or indirectly, were passed by the 111th General Assembly, including Senate Bill 467 to prohibit discrimination in credit on basis of age, which is awaiting the Governor's signature.

Director Martin A. Janis, Ohio Commission on Aging, said that more legislation affecting older people has been passed in the 111th General Assembly than in any previous session.

Rep. Shoemaker said he is particularly proud to have been a member of this 111th General Assembly that has, more than any other, been aware of and acted to promote the welfare and benefits of our senior citizens.

Funds Released For Orient

State Senator Oakley C. Collins (R-Ironton) today announced that the State Controlling Board has released $202,000 to Orient State Institute and $10,000 to Gallipolis State Institute.

According to Collins, the $202,000 grant to Orient State Institute was transferred from Apple Creek State Institute for the rehabilitation and modernization of Orient's dairy.

The $10,000 grant to Gallipolis State Institute will be used to increase the ventilation in the roof of the building in order to meet code requirements.

The funds for these projects were released through the Ohio Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

Vandals Destroy Garden Plants

Vandals destroyed a garden plot at the rear of Paul Francis' 376 Cedar Heights Road home Monday night.

Circleville Police Sgt. Jim Francis, who estimated the damage at $40, said tomato, cabbage, pepper, onion, and cucumber plants were uprooted from the garden and destroyed.

Francis had planted some of the crop last weekend.

Police are looking for a mini bike which was taken from the back yard of the 430 Ray Ave. home of Ralph Mets.

The incident occurred between 6 p.m. Sunday and 4 p.m. Monday. The bike is valued at $180.

Free State Fair Shows To End?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio State Fair, long a favorite project of three-term Gov. James A. Rhodes, could lose one of its major enticements as a result of the increasing state money shortage.

Agriculture Director John M. Stackhouse told the controlling board Monday that the expositions commission is considering an end to the 12-year-old policy of free admissions to grandstand shows.

Rhodes, easily Ohio's the best known fairgoer, initiated the policy after he first became governor in 1963, and it soon caught on at fairs all across the nation.

However Stackhouse, questioned Monday about what can be done to keep the fair from losing money or at least remain near the break even point, said the free grandstand show policy could possibly be reversed.

But Stackhouse said any charge for grandstand shows would not be initiated for the 1976 fair, since plans already are made.

Meshel indicated he favored charging grandstand admissions because, in effect, those lured to the fair by entertainers were being subsidized by others who come for exhibits and other purposes.

The controlling board, at its regular meeting, authorized the commission to enter into $225,000 in contracts to promote and advertise the 1976 fair. Of that amount, $57,000 each will go for radio and newspaper ads, while $70,000 is being set aside to plug the annual exposition on television.

In other business, the board approved 4-3 a welfare department request to enter into a $149,930 contract for an expansion of an "outreach" program to publicize the availability of federal food stamps in Ohio's 28-county Appalachia area.

Republicans on the board voted against the proposal although it is to be funded entirely from federal sources. Board President Robert F. Howarth Jr. said he thinks more efforts are needed to weed out from the food stamp program those Ohioans receiving food stamps illegally.

Meshel and the other three majority Democrats supported the contract with the Corporation for Ohio Appalachia Development, a private, nonprofit organization established to aid the depressed area of southern and southeast Ohio. "Despite its population, many citizens in the area are in dire need and may not know they are eligible for stamps," Meshel said.

In other business, the board:

—Deferred action on a mental health request to enter into a contract for $10,200, without competitive bidding, for architectural services in connection with remodeling of four cottages at Hawthornden State Hospital.

—Authorized the release of $285,000 for expansion of the electrical system at Ohio State University's west campus, $320,000 for equipment purchases at USU's Lima branch and $375,650 for the same purpose at the Newark branch.

—Released $250,000 for the purchase of moveable equipment for the new College of Osteopathic Medicine at Ohio University in Athens.

—Authorized release of more than $80.4 million for the state's May 1976 school foundation subsidy.

—Permitted the youth commission to spend $18,000 for emergency repairs to a leaking sewage treatment system at Scioto Village detention center, discovered following a recent lowering of the Scioto River level for other construction purposes.

—Allowed the mental health department to spend $175,000 for planning of additional construction at the Cleveland Psychiatric Institute.

—Released $202,000 for farm rehabilitation services at Orient State Institute.

—Refused expenditure, pending further study, of $17,666 for 15,000 electronic training manuals by the mental health department.

Reds Turn Back Dodgers, 5-3

LOS ANGELES (AP) — You couldn't tell it by Sparky Anderson, the Cincinnati manager, but the Reds knocked off Los Angeles Monday night 5-3 and regained first place from the Dodgers in the National League West.

Witnessing the game was a crowd of 53,652, the largest in the majors this season and the largest ever on a Monday night at Dodger Stadium.

Anderson wasn't particularly happy because of stories in three Southern California newspapers quoting him as saying the Dodgers were lucky to be where they are.

"What I said," he snapped, "was that they were lucky to be where they are because of beating the Pirates and Cardinals, who didn't have some of their key players in the lineup, but that's baseball."

When it was pointed out that was what was written but it was the headlines that took the quotes out of context, Anderson fumed, "Well then, the writers should have some control over the guys who write the headlines. I don't want to come out here and look like a fool. I don't appreciate it at all."

The writers weren't the only ones who were scolded.

"He really chewed me out after the second inning," said Pat Zachry, 2-0, who scattered eight Los Angeles hits but had to pitch out of jams in the first two innings.

Whatever Sparky said to Zachry, it clicked. The rookie right-hander gave up just two unearned runs in the sixth and eighth innings before Rawley Eastwick took over. But by then the Reds had a three-run lead, thanks to a four-run second inning against loser Don Sutton, 4-4, who had won four straight decisions this season as well as his last four over Cincinnati.

Ken Griffey keyed the Reds' six-hit attack by driving home three runs. He singled with the bases loaded in the second inning when the Reds batted around and he followed a twoout walk to Pete Rose in the seventh with his second triple of the season.

Afterward, Anderson said the Reds are off to such a fast start that it could be a long season for their Western Division rivals.

"Usually we're around .500 at this time," he said. "But if we stay close into June the better it is for us. This is the best start we've had in five years. But we always have an outstanding finish. I know that we'll play the last three months."

Pitching the second and concluding game of the brief series tonight will be Jack Billingham, 4-2, for Cincinnati and Rick Rhoden, 2-0, for Los Angeles.

A couple of anonymous scouts said earlier this spring that then free-agent pitcher Andy Messersmith had a sore arm, that he was damaged goods.

Evidently they never tried to hit against him.

Monday night, Messersmith, now happily chained to the Atlanta Braves, won his first game of the 1976 season, beating the Houston Astros 3-2 in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader. The Astros turned the tables and won the second game 3-2.

"I'm just relieved to get the first one," said Messersmith, who signed with the Braves the first week of the regular season after missing spring training. "I can't believe it."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 2-1; the Cincinnati Reds downed the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3, and the San Diego Padres pounded the San Francisco Giants 12-2.

Messersmith, backed by Darrell Evans' two runs batted in, gave up one walk and struck out four, while limiting the Astros to seven hits. He had been charged with four losses in his six previous starts and carried a 5.11 earned run average into the game.

But until he won, the ghosts of his reported arm trouble would come back to haunt him, even though those reports were denied by Messersmith, the Los Angeles Dodgers — his former employers — and the doctor who examined his arm last April.

"He is not at the top of his game yet," said Bob Watson, who had two hits. "His breaking ball is not what it can be. Tonight he had his change-up down. He threw it like Andy Messersmith can."

Padres 12, Giants 2

Left-hander Randy Jones became the major league's first seven-game winner, tossing a seven-hitter to beat San Francisco.

San Diego, profiting from a 16-hit attack, tagged Jim Barr, 1-3, for three runs in the second with Jones, 7-2, aiding his cause with a run-scoring single.

Jones, runnerup in last year's voting for the National League Cy Young Award when he was the Padres' first 20-game winner, struck out three and walked one.

Pirates 2, Cardinals 1

John Curtis, who has a penchant for serving up home run balls, handled the power-laden Pirates, except for part-timer Bill Robinson, who slugged a two-run shot to lift Pittsburgh over St. Louis.

Richie Zisk led off the seventh with a single and trotted home on Robinson's second homer of the year.

Robinson's homer was the seventh yielded by Curtis in 45 innings.

Local Y Sponsors Basketball Camp For Youngsters

The Pickaway County Family YMCA will sponsor a Tiger-Y basketball day camp June 14 through June 18 and June 21-25.

The camp, sanctioned by Ohio High School Athletic Association, will be directed by Jim Bailey, Circleville varsity basketball coach and co-directed by Jim Diltz, Circleville freshman basketball coach.

It will be held from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. daily at Circleville High School for youths who will be in the fifth through the eighth grade next year.

The camp will feature instructions and drills in the individual fundamentals of offense and defense. The youngsters will be well supervised at all times and the YMCA will provide accident insurance for all participants.

Players must furnish their own gym outfits, towels, and shoes and bring a lunch. Drinks will be furnished.

The last day for registration will be May 28.

Interested parties should contact the local Y for prices and applications or contact coach Bailey at 474-1931 or 474-1286.

LE Cindergirls Capture Tri Meet

Logan Elm's girls track team tallied 69 points to capture a triangular meet with Amanda-Clearcreek and Berne Union.

Amanda-Clearcreek was second with 50 points while Berne Union was third with 20 points.

Gina Henn was a double winner for the Braves with firsts in the 100-yard dash, 12.1, and the 220-yard dash, 30.7.

Other first place winners for the Braves were: Veronica Miller, long jump, 13 feet 10 inches; Patty Briner, hurdles, 13.5; 880 Medley, 2:15.5; Karen Gifford, mile run, 6:35.0; 880 Relay, 2:05.2; Janet Krahn, 880, 2:53.0; Mile Relay, 5:16.8.

Taking second spots were: Cheryl Hawkins, mile; Kim Williams, 440; April Wilamowski, 880; Cindy Gifford, 220.

Third place finishers were: Karen McDevitt, 880; Diane Rhoads, 440; Cherie Tinney and Veronica Miller, tie, 100-yard.

Placing fourth were: Cheryl Hawkins, shot; Julie Wilamowski, discus; Kelly Easter, long jump; Brenda Bolender and Paulette Daniels, tie, high jump; Debbie Calton, hurdles; Marsha Greenwalt, 440.

Cincinnati Stingers Draft Marsh, Carlyle

CINCINNATI (AP) — Peter Marsh, a rightwinger who scored 75 goals in 69 games this season, was the Cincinnati Stingers' first round draft pick and the second player selected in Monday's World Hockey Association over-age junior draft.

Cincinnati also drafted defenseman Randy Carlyle in the first round.

YMCA Sets Girls Gymnastic Clinic

Girls' gymnastics has soared in popularity for body movement and physical fitness in recent years and the Pickaway County Family YMCA will offer a clinic under the direction of Kent State University, June 28 through July 2, at the local YMCA as a continuation of the gymnastic classes offered at the Y since January.

Rarely has the opportunity for such extensive and experienced gymnastic instruction been available in Circleville. Kent State consistently produces fine gymnastics teams under the direction of Janet and Rudy Bachna, experts in this field. Kent State was State of Ohio Division II Champions for 1974-75. They have also won the Annual Quad Meet and finished third in the Midwest Regional, out of a field of six states with representation by 25 schools.

The clinic will be 39 hours of concentrated instruction in basic skills, safety around equipment, expanded knowledge of routines, analysis of setting up routines, hints on what judges look for in competition and better understanding of spotting methods. A final goal would be that the local coaches and teachers be on hand during the clinic so that the purposed program can be implemented.

Harold Hewitt, YMCA director, said that the clinic arrangements were made through Rudy Bachna of Kent State and will be one of a number of clinics held by the Kent State staff throughout Ohio.

Plans are to keep the various classes small for lots of individual attention, however it is necessary to have sufficient registrations, or the clinic will have to be cancelled.

The YMCA asks that reservations be made as soon as possible so that the greatest possible effort can be made to plan an outstanding clinic for Circleville girls.

Call the YMCA at 477-1661 for further information.

Circleville Sets Elementary Meet

Circleville city schools will hold its seventh annual elementary track meet Wednesday at the high school track.

The meet will involve boys and girls in grades four, five and six of the six city elementary schools.

Field events consisting of the long jump, shot put, discus and softball throw will begin at 3 p.m.

Running events, the 60-yard low hurdles, 50-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash, 440-yard run and 440-yard relay will follow at 3:30 p.m.

Atwater Elementary School is the defending champion.

Pro Shop Conquers Giovanni's, 8-4

Rick Withers hurled the Pro Shop to an 8-4 win over Giovanni's in a slow pitch contest at Ted Lewis Park.

Chuck Jackson belted a homer, George Hill rapped a triple while Steve Dade and Bud Ferguson cracked doubles for the extra base raps for the Pro Shop.

Ramey was the losing pitcher and Imler and Garrett both had two hits for Giovanni's.

Larry Stant Tops National Swim Record

Larry Stant, 1995 Ottawa Drive, swimming in the Wheelchair Swim Meet in the State of Michigan, over the past weekend, set a new National Record for the Class II Freestyle for the third time in the last five weeks.

Stant's new National Record time of 18.7 seconds was .07 of a second faster than one week ago when he set the National Record of 19.4. The previous National Record, also set by Stant in mid April, was 20.3.

In addition to setting the new National Record, Stant won three other first place events; the Backstroke, Breaststroke and Individual Medley.

The paraplygic swimmer now holds three National Records, Freestyle, Backstroke and Individual Medley, plus State Records in Ohio for Freestyle, Backstroke, Breaststroke and Individual Medley, State records in Virginia for the same four events, and State records in Michigan and Pennsylvania for these events. Stant also holds a fifth State record in Virginia for the Butterfly event. He holds a total of 17 State records.

"We are very very pleased with what Larry has done so far this year" said his coach, Jim Shea. "But this is now all past us, we are now aiming for the National Wheelchair Swim Meet to be held in mid June, and the Olympics to be held in August in Canada."

The local swimmer was selected to the United States Olympic Wheelchair team one year ago, following his outstanding performance in New Mexico at the Pan-American Wheelchair Games. The Olympic games are scheduled to take place in the Olympic Stadium and Swimming pool, in Canada, immediately following the regular Olympic Games this summer.

Circleville Girls 6th In Track Meet

Circleville's girl track team competed in the nine-team North Union Invitational Meet and finished in sixth place with 36 points.

Marion Harding was the winner of the meet.

Natalie Martin won the 440-yard dash in a time of 59.8 which is her best time in the race. She also was second in the 880 with a time of 2:37.0 and fifth in the high jump with a leap of 4 feet 7 inches. She received the silver medal for individual performance in the meet.

Tammy Merrill came up with a throw of 33 feet 5 inches, her best ever, in the shot to place second.

Lisa Leahy took second place in the mile with a time of 5:54.9.

Circleville will compete in the Sectional meet 2:30 p.m. Thursday at Upper Arlington.

Little Tigers Take County Track Meet

Circleville's seventh and eighth grade track team won its fourth consecutive championship by defeating Teays Valley and Logan Elm at Roundtown Monday.

Circleville Frosh Place In Relays

Circleville's freshman track team finished fifth out of a field of 22 teams in the 13th annual Gene Cole Relay at Lancaster in the Relay Division and 11th in the Open Division.

Columbus Westmoor won the Relay Division with a total of 68 points, Lancaster was second with 64 points. Circleville compiled 13 points.

Placing for Circleville in the Relay Division were: Mile Relay (Tim Welliver, Chris Mays, Dave Happeney, Scott Allen), fourth, 3:50.2; 2-Mile Relay (Brian Sealock, Richard Elsea, Richard Pfleeger, Donnie Hill), fourth, 9:16.1; Pole Vault (Jim Gates, Dave Cordle, Richard Pfleeger), fourth, total of 18 feet 6 inches; Sprint Medley Relay (Danny Martin, Tim Pontious, Tim Welliver, Wayne Rhodes), sixth, 1:44.8. Circleville record.

Lancaster won the Open Division with 59 points, Columbus Westmoor placed second with 45 and Circleville was 11th with 10 points.

Gaining places for Circleville in the Open Division were:

Dennis Lester, 880-Yard Run, third, 2:07, Circleville record; Jim Gates, pole vault, fourth, 10 feet.

Nurse's Aide Enjoys Harness Horse Stable

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tender, loving care is more than just a humorous cliche to Karon Cook.

The 22-year-old nurse's aide from Upper Sandusky, Ohio, takes a leave of absence from her job for her first love—to train and drive her modest three-horse harness stable this summer.

Miss Cook currently is campaigning at Scioto Downs and commutes the 128-mile roundtrip with them the nights she has entries at the Columbus track.

"I know that sounds unusual," she said, "but that's the way it has to be. And really, it is not that far."

Hers are not the elaborate, fancy and colorful stable decorations as many, but it does not diminish her dreams.

She comes by her love and interest in horses and harness racing through her family. Her dad, Lester Cook, has raced horses at Scioto Downs since its first meeting 18 years ago.

Karon was even part of the family operation when she was in a baby carriage at Hilliard Raceway. Through grade and high school, she spent her summer months with her parents and their horses on the Ohio fair circuit.

She received her fair driver's license when she was 16. Two years later came her provisional license.

Since then, Miss Cook has scored victories at Lebanon and Toledo Raceway in Ohio and The Meadows near Pittsburgh.

Such a demanding schedule has not diminished her enthusiasm. "I would rather train and drive race horses than anything else in the world," she said.

Miss Cook conceded it does not leave much time for a social life. Horses come first and boyfriends could be an interference, she said.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR WEDNESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A business associate may want you to join him in an investment. Better not! This will not be a good day for venturing.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Venus influences highly inspirational. Unusual ideas could spark a brand new approach in career matters.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): Mercury somewhat adverse. Your judgment clouded by a personal matter. Do not make any important decisions for 48 hours.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): A good period for starting or developing new business associations, but take the initiative before noon. Not much cooperation later.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Consider some original ideas or new twists to old methods to help you on to achievement. But don't discard old procedures which have proved effective in the past.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): You are always ready to give help when needed, and you may be called upon now. Give your time, energy and (or) assets. It will pay well when you least expect it.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): A productive day for those engaged in creative activities. Some of your ideas may need revision before they become practical, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Everyday matters need reviewing. Note where changes are needed, and make them efficiently. But do not alter smooth-running procedures merely for the sake of change.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 21 to Dec. 21): Transform scintillating ideas into brisk quality action. Implement your program with the thorough thinking that brought past successes.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Review past failures, past successes. There's something to be learned from both. Incorporate the superior into any new effort. You CAN attain.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Watch that tempo — and the inclination to act upon a decision too quickly. In holding discussions, don't try to force issues or you could overshoot a safe mark.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Matters of minor importance may blow up out of proportion — unless YOU call a halt. Your quick-silver intuition and perceptiveness should be a help.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely sensitive, affectionate and home loving. Innately serious-minded, you make an excellent scholar and teacher; could also excel in science where your inherent studiousness, coupled with an inborn curiosity, would be a tremendous asset. You are fond of the active life, but have a strong tendency toward the conservative and traditional. In the choice of a career, many fields are open to you, notably: writing, the law, medicine or the theater — especially as manager or director. If, as many Taureans, you have been endowed with a good voice, be sure to cultivate it, since it could lead to almost exalted success. Any branch of the communications media would also be an excellent outlet for your talents. Birthdate of: Nellie Melba, world-famous opera singer.

Views On Television

HONOLULU (AP) — Saved in the nick of time, like something from a police series, "Hawaii Five-O" has begun filming new shows for next season. But work got under way 45 days behind schedule because of a crisis.

It didn't involve cops, robbers or ratings. Only real estate.

It all began last December. The CBS show was kicked out of its six-year-old studio here after a court battle ended with rulings the studio had been (a) built without a permit, and (b) in a place with the wrong zoning.

Whereupon CBS, which has broadcast this police show for eight years, chose a new 4.8-acre site on state-owned land near historic Diamond Head. Whereupon it wound up with more grief.

The move was opposed by a residents' group, the East Diamond Head Association. Its members said CBS should have tried harder to find land that wasn't in a residential zone and part of a state-designated historic, scenic and cultural district.

"Diamond Head is just as important internationally as the Statue of Liberty," said association president Peyton Carroll.

Jack Lord, who stars in the series, replied: "We did try with every human means to find a site that would fall within that (light industrial) zoning."

CBS saw no alternative. "Hawaii Five-O" shot under the smoggy skies of Hollywood? Impossible.

As deadline for the new season loomed, Lord grumbled, "Any state in the Union would build us a studio and turn it over to us at a dollar a year. Especially a state that is tourist-oriented."

Nobody disputed CBS' contention that filming the show here has added $64 million to Hawaii's economy, nor that "Hawaii Five-O"—sometimes said by TV critics to have more memorable scenery than memorable acting — helps to draw tourists.

City officials said the proposed site of the new studio would have no significant impact on the surrounding scenery or the neighborhood. But the city Planning Commission recommended against putting the studio there.

This set the stage, so to speak, for a public hearing before the City Council last month that lasted nearly six hours.

The City Council voted 9-0 to grant CBS a conditional use permit for a new studio in Honolulu, and let it use the site it selected for five years.

The morning after the council's decision, engineers and surveyors were at work and CBS was prepared to spend about $400,000 to build a new sound stage and move its office from the old studio.

Even so, spokesmen say the studio won't be ready for use until mid-July. Location shooting for several episodes has begun, but indoor scenes are being delayed or shot elsewhere.

Sweets Top Market Thefts

PRAGUE (AP) — Sweets and high quality coffee are the most frequent target of shoplifters in Bratislava supermarkets, a local paper reports.

Alcohol, which holds third place, represents about one third of all the thefts.

Shoplifting is not due to poverty, the daily said. Among recent culprits were an engineer, a philharmonic musician, and a lawyer.

Westfall Board Acts On Resignations

Several resignations from regular teaching assignments and extra-curricular duties were accepted Monday night by the Westfall Board of Education in its regular meeting.

The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Carolyn Liff and Mrs. Deborah Newell, high school English teachers and Howard Pond, high school industrial arts teacher. Sally Orihood resigned her position as assistant girls' track coach and John Butts resigned as assistant baseball coach.

The board also accepted the resignation of Miss Karen Rumble as a tutor.

Mike Eckle was employed as a summer driver education instructor. The substitute teacher list No. 9 as submitted by the county superintendent's office was also accepted and approved.

Personal leave requests from six teachers were approved.

The board approved the use of the Williamsport school ground ball diamond by two groups for the summer and also approved the use of the Monroe and Darby Schools for vacation church school to be held by the United Methodist Churches of Derby and Five Points.

Permission was granted for Kenneth Reid, clerk of the board of education, to attend the Ohio School Board Association's clerk-treasurer clinic to be held in Westerville on June 14.

The early dismissal schedule was approved for the last day of school on June 4. Grades 7-11 will be dismissed at 12:30 p.m. and grades 1-6 will be dismissed at 1:45 p.m. The last day for kindergarten classes will be June 3.

The board, in other action, agreed to purchase the remaining classroom doors at the middle school at a cost of $3,090. The doors are to be installed by the Ohio State Construction Company. The cost will include the installation and the hardware.

A resolution passed the board to request an advanced draw on local taxes to meet the current operating expenses.

In final action during the meeting, the board voted to re-schedule its next regular meeting for June 14.

Ward Decendants Dedicate Memorial

Descendants of William Ward met in Reber Hill Cemetery Sunday afternoon to dedicate a memorial to the pioneer settler.

The ceremony celebrated the installation of a memorial plaque on the tombstone of William Ward. Donated by Ray Ward of Washington, D. C., a sixth generation descendant, the plaque was installed to preserve for future generations the information on the original Ward's stone.

Ward family members joined for the short ceremony which included an introduction and prayer by Robert Cline, a biographical summary of William Ward and readings of Psalms 33 and 23 by Mrs. Wade Cantor.

The plaque was fitted to the tombstone by Wade Cantor, Andy Ward and Emerson Brown. Then Lori and Sheri Lambert and Jackie and Robin Cline representing the ninth generation of descendants, installed four flags in standards on the gravesite — two 13-star flags representing the early United States, a 50-star flag and the "76" Bennington flag.

Mrs. Arthur Blunt of Michigan was donor of the Bennington flag erected on the gravesite.

Ward, born in England in 1743, came to America and settled originally in Virginia. He served in the Revolution from March, 1777 to 1778 with Captain Francis Taylor's 2nd Virginia Regiment, commanded by Col. Alexander Spotwood.

In the spring of 1802, he brought his wife Nancy, and seven of their children to what is now Walnut Township to live out the remaining days of his life. He died in December, 1814, at the age of 71.

Attending the ceremoney at Reber Hill were Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ward and grandchildren Tami and Sean Samko, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Brown, Mrs. Carol Higgins and Julie, Mrs. Dorothy Taes, Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Cline, Jackie Jr., Robin, Jamie and Alan, Mrs. John Long, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline, Mrs. Delano Younkin, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Cantor, all of Ashville;

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward, Darryl, Thomas, Amy and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Morrison, of Circleville; June Rose Martindale and Elmer Grosstuck, Wellston; Jeanne Fridley and Ray Stebelton, Groveport;

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley E. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vitek, Mark Ward, all of Columbus; Mrs. Judy Lambert, Lori, Sheri and Kathi, South Bloomfield; James A. Young, Jaimie and Kevin;

Karl Morrison, Williamsport; Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Weinsheimer, Doylestown; Faye Mays and Katherine Chapman, Barberton.

Repair Work To Begin In Ashville

Street repair work will begin about June 15 in Ashville, members of village council learned at the regular meeting Monday night.

John Milstead, general manager for the Van Camp Contracting Co., said the improvement to 11 streets and alleys in the village would be completed within 30 days.

In addition, Milstead told council that additional work would be done on Jefferson Ave., two intersections in Ashville, and lowering of street crowns in several places.

Village Water and Sewer Superintendent Steve Cook told councilmen that the Teays Valley Board of Education is to replace several tile in their sanitary sewer system.

The tile are cracked, Cook said.

The damage was discovered when Penetryn Systems, Inc., inspected the school's sanitary sewer system with a television camera.

Council also approved an ordinance to provide employment for general street employe Roy Mettler. The ordinance also reviewed his salary.

In other business, council learned that Pickaway County Commissioners have set a public hearing to review annexation of 1.84 acres located at the northwest corner of Route 316 and Route 752. The hearing will be held 10 a.m. May 24 at the commissioners' office.

Gas rate for Ashville consumers was reduced by 4.83 cents per 1,000 cubic feet as of April 28. The vilage collected $378 in fines and costs from Mayor's court for the period April 20 to May 11.

Council will meet in regular session June 7 at 7 p.m.

Members present Monday were President Nolo Gulick, councilmen George Forquer, Richard Cook, Gary Throp, and Marvin Hicks, and clerk Raymond L. Lindsey.

Steve Stevenson Stars In 'Tecumseh' Drama

STEVE STEVENSON

The Scioto Society, producers of "Tecumseh!" outdoor drama, announced today the signing of Circleville businessman, Steve Stevenson, to play the major role of James Galloway in the drama's 1976 season.

Stevenson, a Massachusetts Mutual Insurance agent in Circleville, has been a member of the Scioto Society's board of trustees for nearly three years. He has acted in 17 productions of Circleville's Roundtown Players, and appeared in the Chillicothe Civic Theatre productions of "Any Wednesday," and "West Side Story."

He is a member of the Elks, Rotary, and Volunteers for Youth of Circleville, as well as being vice president of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce.

The 1976 "Tecumseh!" season begins June 21 and runs through Sept. 4, nightly except Sunday. For information write: "Tecumseh!" P.O. Box 73, Chillicothe, Ohio 45601.

Fairgrounds Reappraised

Pickaway County Commissioners named Charles Rose, Donald Rose and George Bowling to a board to reappraise the Fairgrounds.

Purpose of the reappraisal is to allow the agricultural society to borrow $14,000 to build a 28-stall horse barn. Paul Dean and Forrest Easterday representing the agricultural society requested the reappraisal.

Commissioners Dick T. Tootle, L. Robert Liston and Donald Strous met with Kenneth Dunn, a representative of Barrett, Cargo, Withers and Associates to discuss final application for a community block grant.

The county has been invited to apply for $300,000. The Chillicothe based engineering and planning firm has offered to assist in the final application.

Commissioners approved $280 for Sara Dresbach, clerk of courts, to cover expenses while attending the annual state convention to be held in Dayton June 15-18.

They also approved $500 for Greg Bigam to attend a training seminar in Washington D. C., June 6-10.

A request was made by Fay Roberts, 10986 Ashville Pike, for a stop sign at Duvall Road and Ashville Pike. Her request was referred to county engineer Henry McCrady.

A letter was received from Quality Farm and Fleet concerning the condition of a private access road at the development where it is located south of Circleville. The firm inquired if there is any possibility of the county taking over maintenance of the road. Commissioners noted it would have to be built to county engineering specifications by the developer or owners before the county would consider taking over maintenance.

Override Attempt Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Rep. Edward J. Orlett, D-34 Dayton, will attempt to override Gov. James A. Rhodes' veto of a bill the Democratic lawmaker claims is one of the most important consumer protection measures of the year.

Orlett referred Monday to his bill that would repeal the "holder in due course" doctrine. It says, in effect, that dealers and merchants may sell time payment contracts to third party financial institutions which are not responsible if items sold are defective.

In vetoing the measure last Friday, Rhodes said it would only further confuse consumers with regard to their rights and that a recently adopted rule of the Federal Trade Commission provides the same protection intended by the bill.

Orlett denied Rhodes' contention saying among other things that the FTC rule applies only to banks engaged in interstate commerce.

The Dayton lawmaker charged that the governor's veto was prompted "by automobile dealers who objected to being brought under the Retail Installment Sales Act and the Community Bankers Association.

Orlett noted that his measure received 79-10 House approval and cleared the Senate 27-5.

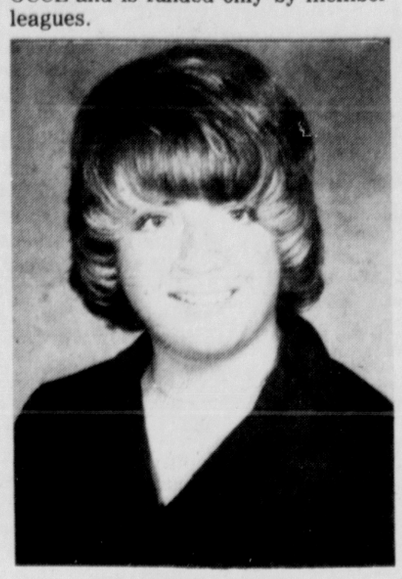
Gwen Myers Receives Scholarship Loan

Miss Gwen Myers has been named the recipient of a scholarship loan from the Ohio Child Conservation League. The scholarship loan fund is the state philanthropic project of the OCCL and is funded only by member leagues.



GWEN MYERS

Miss Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Myers of Ashville. She will be a 1976 graduate of Teays Valley High School.

The 17-year-old recipient has been accepted at Miami University at Oxford where she plans to study math and art.

During her four years at TV, she has participated in the Drama Club, Latin Club, girls' chorus, Spanish Club, Future Business Leaders of America, Future Women's Club, girls' track, golf and tennis teams, and National Honor Society.

She also participated in the Scholastic Achievement Tests three years. Miss Myers belongs to the International Order of Rainbow for Girls and is active in the Zion United Methodist Church.

Her hobbies include drawing, painting and playing the piano.

The Ashville Child Study League sponsored Miss Myers for the award.

Y Notes

The Pickaway County YMCA is planning a special week end for all members of the Tri-Gra-Y and Gra-Y clubs on May 21 & 22. The special event is a coed campout to be held at Camp Willson. A minimal fee will be charged to cover costs of snacks, insurance, meals, and a variety of activities. Parents are asked to provide their childs transportation in order to defray costs of the week end.

Chaperones for the event will be Harold Hewitt and Joan Eller assisted by other YMCA staff.

Registration forms are available at the YMCA, 151 E. Franklin St. All pre-registrations and fees are to be turned into the YMCA by May 19.

For more information concerning the camp out contact the YMCA, by coming in or phoning 477-1661.
